Forge Ahead With New Monetary Laws

BUT NO FRESH ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

Powers Must Overhaul Their Commercial Policy, Urges League Committee

GENEVA, Oct. 9.

"Never since the abandonment of the Gold Standard by Britain we found ourselves in a situation, which is so clear and so rich in hope for the future and in the immediate possibilities," states the League's Economic Committee's report unanimously adopted to-day by the Committee.

FORGE AHEAD

It asks Governments not to confine themselves to first measures whereby they accomplished the New Monetary Laws but to enter into negotiations at the earliest possible moment with a view to overhauling their whole commercial policy.

NO FRESH CONFERENCE

Thus there is no suggestion for a fresh Economic Conference but the matter is left open for negotiation between the Powers concerned.—Reuter

BREACH OF NEUTRALITY?

Labour Demands Inquiry, And Abrogation Of Pact, If Proved

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Labour must be prepared to face any risks consequent to its demands, declared Maj. Attlee before the Edinburgh Conference, which to-day considered the Executive's report of the Chamberlain interview mentioned yesterday.

The report which the Conference accepted demands that investigations of alleged breaches of Non-intervention Pact should be published and, if verified, the British and French Governments should immediately declare the Pact abrogated.—Reuter.

NON-INTERVENTION, ONLY SOUND POLICY

RUGBY, October 9.

International Committee for application of agreement regarding non-intervention will meet this afternoon.

Widespread interest has been aroused in meeting by publication of Soviet's communication which was handed to the Acting-Chairman Lord Plymouth bringing to the notice of the Committee, the allegations of foreign help to the insurgents and declaring that if violations of Agreement were not immediately discontinued, the Soviet Government will consider themselves relieved of obligations which the Agreement imposes.

NO DEFLECTION

Hope is expressed here that the Committee will not, in consequence of the Russian move be deflected from the rules of procedure which it laid down for its conduct and which insist that information regarding alleged infractions will be submitted only after the Government's sponsoring such complaints had satisfied themselves of the trustworthiness of the evidence on which they were based and that information made public, should be confined to statements contained in the Committee's agreed communiques.

ONLY SOUND POLICY

The 'Times' commenting on the situation while admitting that the work of the non-intervention Committee can never be wholly effective says policy of non-intervention is nevertheless the only sound policy and this country will stand fast by it.—B.O.W.

No Quarter To Indiscipline

Civic Voters Refuse To Return Dr. Rajan Again

(From Our Correspondent)

MADRAS, Oct. 9.

Dr. T. S. S. Rajan who resigned his seat on the Trichi Municipal Council as a sequel to the Congress Working Committee's condemnation of his action in proposing and getting elected against Tamil Nad Provincial Congress Commitee's mandate Mr. Pooniah Pillai as Chairman of the Municipal Council, and who sought re-election to the Council from the same ward was declared defeated to-day.

NAZI WRATH AGAINST SOVIET

German Press Charges Russia With "Lying" Defamation

LONDON, Oct. 9.

The German Press is unanimous against the Soviet, charging them under phrases such as "lying defamation," "distortion of facts" and "provocation."

General German opinion is that Moscow is desirous of free hand for open intervention.

FRENCH PRESS PESSIMISTIC.

The French Press tends towards the view that nothing can prevent the fall of the Madrid Government, "Echo De Paris" stating that Germany, Italy and Portugal are more than willing to assist the overthrow of Workmen's Militia but if Germany, Italy, France and Britain remain calm, order in Europe will not be troubled or usefulness of non-intervention in Spain overthrown.—Reuter.

STRENGTHENING THE LEAGUE

Committee To Be Set Up

GENEVA, Oct. 9.

The General Commission decided to establish a Committee composed of the Council and an unstated number of non-members of the Council with the object of examining the problem of strengthening the authority of the League.—Reuter.

PEACE HOPES IN PALESTINE

Arab Shopkeepers Prepare For Sudden Rush Of Business

JERUSALEM, Oct. 9.

Hopes of peace are daily becoming stronger. It is believed that the publication of the four Arab rulers' appeal will be the deciding factor for ending the struggle.

General optimism is already reflected in the fact that Arab shopkeepers are busily preparing their premises in anticipation of the early termination of disorders and sudden rush of business.—Reuter.

COMBING HILLS FOR ARABS

JERUSALEM, Oct. 9.

Scots Fusiliers, Bedford-and-Herts and Lincolns were engaged to-day in combing the hills and ravines between Tulkarm and Nablus, hunting for rebels following the engagement in the vicinity yesterday, when the rebels heavily attacked the patrolling tanks.

The British returned fire and it is believed fifteen Arabs were killed or wounded. Two tanks broke down and spent the night in the open, guarded by four others, which rushed to the rescue.—Reuter.

FRANCE FOR NEUTRAL ENQUIRY

PARIS, Oct. 9.

It is understood that M. Blum who entertained Mr. Anthony Eden at Lunch to-day told Mr. Eden that Soviet, charges of violation of the Non-intervention Pact would not modify France's attitude to the principle of non-intervention in Spanish affairs. France would be prepared to accept the establishment of a Neutral Committee of Enquiry but would go no further.

The French Government has asked French Ambassador in London to ask for strict inquiry regarding documents submitted by Spanish Government to the League.—Reuter.

Challenge To Bombay Revenue Member

JOINT STATEMENT BY DEO & PATWARDHAN

Jawari Sample From Sholapur Famine Area, No Fake

POONA, (By Mail).

"We challenge the statement of the Revenue Member that the Jawari sample produced by Mr. J. More, M.L.C. from Sholapur (non-Muslim Rural) in the Bombay Council during its session, was a fake. The Jawari was eaten and is being eaten by over a hundred farmers in a village in Sholapur District and we have satisfied ourselves that the effects are irreputable.

Never Investigated

Will the Hon. Khan Bahadur have the courtesy to admit that when he denied that the Jawari sample was eaten by any farmers, he had not taken the trouble to investigate the matter previously.

Official Methods

This is yet another example that the State and its officers only see what they want to see and hear what they like to hear".

Thus concludes the statement issued by Messrs. Shankerrao Deo, President, M.P.C.C. and Achyutrao Patwardhan(member, Congress Working Committee.

In the course of the statement they say:—

Messrs. Shankerrao Deo and Achyut Patwardhan have issued the following statement:—

We were in Sholapur when we read the Council debate relating to the sample of Jawari raised by Mr. More of Pandharpur. The jawari sample referred to in the debate was sent by the Congress workers in Sholapur, who had moved about in the district for a famine survey, Dr. Antrolkar Messrs. Jaju and Jadhav of the Sholapur District Congress Committee and Karadkar and some members of the Textile Union who had gone about on a village to village inquiry to assess the intensity and incidence of the failure of the first crop. During the course of their survey they came across over a hundred people in one village who were eating foul rotten jawari, which had turned into an ash coloured evil-smelling stuff, unfit for any use save as manure. So they had sent samples of the same to some prominent M.L.C.'s and to the Hon. Revenue Member. It is usually assumed that an emphatic denial from the Revenue Member is usually preceded by local investigation. Thus the matter seemed to end there.

AT MANDI NANDANI.

We are touring in Sholapur for the last four days and though the second crop might, with some luck, still be saved, it is quite obvious that the peasantry has very little with which to keep going during the next few months. We were interested in the statement of the Revenue Member and so we drove up to Nandani (Sholapur Taluka) from where the Jawari sample had come.

HOW THEY GOT JAWARI.

As soon as we reached the village we asked for fresh samples of the Jawari, and investigated the matter as fully as possible. The story that we got was as convincing as it was tragic. Four Mahars from the village—Chandra Parsu, Kundalya Sheteba, Mashaba Manaku and Rama Mhasba, were out of work like most of the other men in the village. So they got into touch with Mr. Baburao Kulkarni of Chinchpur. and an obliging 'teli' (oilman) Rachappa of Takli. They got eleven bags of Jawari; four of these were absolutely rotten and foul smelling, and had turned to the colour of ash. The other seven bags are also rotten and only slightly less so. They agreed to pay eight seers to a bag by way of interest for the seven bags and to return four bags of fresh grain for the rotten bags. In default they gave four pro-notes of Rs. 50 each.

Some other farmers also borrowed the same grain from these four Mahars. For the whole of the past month they have nothing else to live upon except this foul and rotten grains.

UNEDIBLE STUFF.

We asked for samples of bread. we were told that even the cows and dogs refused to eat this grain. But the poor Mahars had no other course open but to eat the same. The children asked for food and when they got this bread they used to turn away in disgust—only to return again and try another few bites. One or two Kolis and one Lingayat farmer (Laxman Honappa) also lived on the same fare. One of us offered to pay the woman, who got us the bread, a few annas. The face of that woman is difficult to forget as she said "what shall we do with your money—give us some work".

PORTUGAL'S THREAT.

LONDON, Oct. 9.

It is understood that Portugal this morning threatened to leave the Non-Intervention Committee which sat for over four hours in the evening. The threat, it is understood, was made after both Portuguese and Italian delegates had vigorously denied charges in the Spanish Memorandum circulated to the Committee by Britain. It is not certain how seriously the threat is intended.—Reuter.

ARAB RULERS' APPEAL ACCEPTED

JERUSALEM, October 9.

The joint conference between the first group of Arab National Committees and the Higher Arab Committee to-day unanimously accepted the proposed Arab Rulers' appeal in connection with the termination of the strike. The text of the appeal together with the manifesto will be issued following further conferences with three other groups of national delegates.—Reuter.

WORLD WHEAT POSITION

Tendency Of Prices During Winte. Will Be Firm Says "Economist"

LONDON, Oct. 9.

"The wheel of wheat cycle has in fact almost turned a full circle" is the conclusion arrived at by the "Economist" in an analysis of world wheat position.

After reviewing at length the requirements of importing countries and exportable supplies in 1936-37, the article points out that the margin between the two is likely to be very small, hence the exportable carryover at the end of the current season will be negligible. The tendency of prices during the winter is, therefore, likely to be firm and, with practically no stocks to draw upon in 1937-38 and only bumper crop in that season, will suffice to prevent the steep upward trend next summer.—Reuter

FOREIGN BONDS ILLEGAL

India Govt. Can Prosecute Those Carrying On Business In Them

(From Our Correspondent)

SIMLA, Oct. 9.

Sir Henry Craik informed Chowdary Ismail Khan that Government do not recognise the sale of premium bonds in India issued by foreign municipalities and Governments. On the other hand they regard them as lotteries, the sale and advertisement of which are illegal. Any person in India carrying on business in these bonds are liable to prosecution under Section 294 A of the Indian Penal Code. Government have no reason to believe that large sums of money are invested by Indian public in purchasing these bonds, but if any member of the public does so at his own risk and Government cannot tender any advice or render any assistance in the matter.

WAY TO BETTER UNDERSTANDING

Hofmeyr On Contribution Of India To World Development

NEW DELHI, Oct. 9.

Civic Reception was given by the Delhi Municipality to the South African Delegation this afternoon. Sir Abdul Rahman, welcoming the Delegation, said that the gesture of peace and goodwill was particularly important at this juncture when the atmosphere was charged with all sorts of misunderstandings and war was looming large on the horizon.

The Municipal Address stressed the historic importance of Delhi and pleaded for the removal of difficulties whereunder Indians in South Africa were at present.

TRIBUTE TO DELHI.

Mr. Hofmeyr replying appreciated the warmness of the welcome given to them everywhere in India but felt that there was special significance in the welcome offered to them at Delhi, which was not only one of the greatest and most ancient of cities, but which was also destined to play a great role in time to come. He wished to reciprocate the warmth of welcome offered to them here by bringing to Delhi's people greetings from Pretoria.

INDIA'S CONTRIBUTION.

None could visit the relics of Delhi without being struck with the spiritual gifts of the predecessors of her present inhabitants. These things typified India more than anything else—India of art, literature and philosophy—which had been inadequately interpreted in South Africa by past visitors and which they would do in full measure. They would also tell their people of the contribution which India made to the development of the modern world and this could not but lead to better understanding.

The Delegation was entertained at a garden party which was attended among others, by Sir Jagdish Prasad. The Delegation visited to-day the Fort and the historic Jumma Masjid.—A. P.

Problem Of Slippery Road To Motorists

Drivers Advised To Adjust Themselves To Changing Weather Conditions

The following observations were made in the course of a Broadcast talk on "Good Driving" given by Mr. A.S. Trollip, Honorary Joint General Secretary, the Safety First Association of India on Wednesday night:

Good evening, drivers, this is the last of a series of three talks on driving by the Safety First Association of India, a volunteer non-communal, non-political oragnisation having the objective 'The Conservation of Life and Property'.

Ice and Snow always bring problems for drivers. These problems are the result of less friction. And that is interesting, because usually we are trying to reduce friction all we can. We use ball and roller bearings to overcome friction. We smooth and polish parts to reduce friction. We put oil in our cars to avoid friction. But we can't get along without friction, just the same.

For after all, we couldn't start a car, we couldn't stop a car, we couldn't turn a corner, if it weren't for friction. The friction between the road and our rubber tyres is what gives us traction.

Most of the time we have plenty of traction. But in certain climates every year, Winter comes blowing and blustering down from the North, and the first thing we know he has spread ice and snow oevr our roads, and our whole traction condition is changed.

Adjust Yourself

But motor cars are pretty well prepared these days to meet any conditions. All we have to do is to adjust ourselves to these changed circumstances.

This business of starting in slippery weather can be quite a problem. But stopping is even more so. However, most good drivers agree on one method that they find quite satisfactory. First of all they begin to slow their cars down at quite a distance from where they want to stop. They press the brake lightly at first and release it almost at once. Then they press again and release quickly. By a series of brief, moderate brake actions instead of one continuous pressure, they gradually reduce speed and can usually stop without skidding.

Many of the best drivers always make it a point not to disengage the clutch as soon as they apply their brakes, but to wait until the car has almost stopped. While this is their general practice, they say it is especially important on slippery roads, as they claim it reduces the chances of skidding. But if we use this method there is one thing we must look out for. We have to remember that on a slippery surface it is very easy to stall our engine by using our brakes when the clutch is still engaged.

After all, the main thing to do about driving in slippery weather is just what we do about walking in slippery weather. We are all pretty careful about that. The first thing most of us do when we go out on a slippery morning is put out one foot cautiously and get the feel of the surface to see how careful we have to be. The best drivers, we know, do practically the same thing with their cars. The first thing they do after they get started is to test the surface. They make sure that there are no cars too near, and then they gently apply the brakes. If they don't skid they resume speed and apply the brakes again—this time a little more firmly. In this way they determine the surface and know the degree of caution they must exercise to be safe. This seems like a very sensible idea.

City Traffic

When we look down from a tall building and watch the traffic in the streets below, we wonder how in the world all those cars can keep moving along, crossing intersections, passing each other, turning in and out of parking positions, without getting hopelessly tangled.

As a matter of fact, from away up there, we do see traffic jams now and then and many times the reasons for the trouble are just as plain as day. Someone will try to turn from a wrong position, and in a few seconds the whole line of cars is thrown out of kilter for blocks. Or a pedestrian will dart out in front of a car so the driver has to slam on his brakes, and one after another the cars behind him have to do the same thing. Then there is apt to be a great blowing of horns that only adds to the confusion.

But when we become part of that traffic our whole view point changes. We can't see those things going on up ahead that make us stop and start and stop again. And we can't see around corners or up alleys. And the worst of it is we can't look into other people's minds . . . . . the driver who makes a sudden turn, or the pedestrian who decides to do something we can't foresee. The interesting thing is that what pedestrians do may seem strange and illogical to us while we're driving: but we're all leading double lives . . . . sometimes drivers, sometimes pedestrians . . . and it's funny how our psychology changes when we change from one to the other.

Under Suspicion

Anyhow, things can happen all-of-a-sudden in our crowded cities and we have to be ready for them. And so, as one driver has said, we have to drive along with every intersection, every alley every car, under suspicion. We all like to think it was the other fellow's fault when we get into trouble. But, as we have been reminded, if we're sufficiently alert we don't let the other fellow's mistake get us into trouble.

Expert drivers tell us here is just one thing to do . . . to give ourselves a margin of safety . . . . a reserve of space and a reserve of time.

It's an easy matter to take a reserve of space. They point out that we don't have to drive right up almost bumper-to-bumper with the car ahead. If we do, the chances are we can't stop as quickly as we may need to if he suddenly stops, slows up, or makes a turn. But if we drop back a little, and take a little extra room we won't have to worry about turning out at right angles to avoid bumping. And we won't pick up such a fine collection of nicked fenders and bent bumpers, either.

But a reasonable interval of space, or even clear sailing, for that matter, won't do us much good if we don't keep a time margin of safety too. In other words, we don't want to go so fast that we won't have time to do what we may have to do.

Now just as we need a safety margin ahead, we also need to protect ourselves from behind. For instance, many drivers tell us that when they want to turn or stop, they know that merely making the proper signal isn't enough. They make it a rule to start at least two blocks beforehand, getting into the correct position to stop or turn.

We may all know these things, but we know them so well we're apt to get careless about them. Because we can drive almost automatically, and hardly have to even think about it, we are apt to go rolling along thinking of something else. Then, all at once our eyes have an important message for our brain, and when they try to get the message through, the line is busy!

So it doesn't pay to let our thoughts go wool-gathering. As a matter of fact, it makes city driving just one emergency after another, which takes all the plea-

Backache Made Him Feel An Old Man At 31

NOW CYCLES 28 MILES A DAY AFTER KRUSCHEN SALTS

This man of 31 was prematurely aged by kidney trouble, when he should have been enjoying the best years of his life. Here he tells how Kruschen gave him back his health, after months of pain:—

"I was in hospital for ten weeks, owing to kidney trouble. When I was discharged I felt like an old man, although I am only 31. If I stooped to do anything it was agony to straighten up again. Several people advised me to try Kruschen Salts as they had found them wonderful. I tried them and found they gave me relief from pain and I felt better in every way. I cycle 28 miles a day to and from work, and shall keep up the daily dose of Kruschen because I can now do the journey to and from work and a night's work, and not feel any the worse for it."—S. V. C.

The kidneys are the filters of the human body. Unless they function properly, certain acid wastes, instead of being expelled, are allowed to pollute the bloodstream and produce troublesome symptoms; backache, rheumatism, and excessive fatigue. Kruschen Salts is one of the finest diuretics or kidney aperients available for assisting the kidneys to excrete acid impurities.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Chemists, Stores and Bazars.

An Unfortunate Sidelight Of Durand Tournament

(BY "LOOKER-ON.")

Football

A sad and unfortunate incident took place on the Annandale ground at Simla the other day in a football match in which the Aryans from Calcutta were playing the Green Howards in the Durand Cup Tournament. It appears from reports that the Army referee in charge of the game was doing his job in a partial manner towards the Army team. He disallowed a goal scored by the Aryans on the ground of off-side. Secondly, he is reported to have continued the game after the scheduled time was over, ostensibly with the object of giving the Green Howards a chance to equalise. The Aryans were then leading by two goals to one. Finally, he awarded a penalty-kick against the Indian team which being unconverted at first shot he is reported to have allowed to be taken again. This time the Infantrymen made no mistake.

WITHDRAWAL OF ARYANS

These are the major charges against the referee on which the Aryans based their protest. Anybody with a little knowledge of the rules of the game will tell you that the grounds on which the Aryans protested could not stand, in that the rule definitely lays down that on all points of facts the referee's decision is final". But the captain of the Indian team argued that the referee was partial to the Military team from the very beginning and he put forward the above instances to prove his case. The Durand Committee, however, thought otherwise and ordered a replay of the match, it having ended in a draw. As a protest against this decision, the Aryans withdrew from the tournament. It is a pity they did so, because such instances of mishandling a game are not uncommon in the sporting field and least of all in Soccer. In my opinion it would have been more sporting of them to fight the battle over again and win it twice over. Even if they had lost it would not have been to their discredit.

A BAD PRECEDENT

But I believe that the Aryans were guided in their decision by the examples set forth by the Durhams and the King's Royal Rifle Corps in the finals of the I. F. A. Shield at Calcutta a couple of years ago, when they, under the orders of their General Officer Commanding, withdrew from the tournament and made it void. The refree involved in this match was an Indian with a great reputation behind him. As in the Calcutta case, Simla upheld the referee's decisions. But in the first instance the public and the press were with the referee, whereas in the latter case they were totally against him—so much so that vast crowds invaded the grounds immediately the final whistle blew and made a big demonstration before the Committe's tent.

FACTS TWISTED

An unfortunate incident then took place which excited the feelings of the Indian crowd greatly. When the demonstration was going on, there was a lathi charge as a result of which several persons were injured. An adjournment motion was moved in the Legislative Assembly which was thrown out on the assurance of the Law Member that nobody had been killed in the affray. Commenting on this incident Bori Bunder's special correspondent at Simla connected Sir Nripendra Nath Sircar with the Presidentship of the Aryans and made the world believe that he was quite satisfied with the rulings of the referee and the Committee. The fact however is that Sir N. Sircar was president of Bhowanipore Club and has nothing to do with the Aryans and his opinion on the game is quite different from what has been published at Bori Bunder. Now let us leave them at that.

Lawn Tennis

The Ranking Committee of the All-India Lawn Tennis Association has just issued the ranking list of the women players based on their last season's forms. They stand as follows:—(1) Mrs. J. Boland. (2) Mrs. R. J. McInnes, (3) Miss Leela Row, (4) Miss Harvey Johnstone, (5) Miss M. Woodcock, and (6) Miss L. Woodbridge. The most surprising thing about it is the ranking of Leela Row. She is the present holder of the All-India Championship and has also the Punjab and the Bombay Presidency Championships to her credit. Ordinarily she should have been placed No. 1 in the list. But having regard to Jenny Boland's victory in the Exhibition match in Bombay and her acknowledged superiority to Leela, the leading place goes indisputably to the East and Western India Chapion, even though she did not participate in the All-India Championships.

INJUSTICE TO LEELA ROW

According to a resolution of the A. I. L. T. A., only those players who participate in not less than two of the following five tournaments, namely All-India, East India, Western India, South India and the Punjab championships shall be entitled to ranking. Now the lady who has been ranked second at the expense of Leela, did not even fulfil the minimum qualification for ranking. The only tournament of the above category in which Mrs. McInnes as Miss Olga Webb had played was the East India Championships and in this she was defeated by Jenny. No. doubt Olga got the better of Jenny in the earlier tournament,—I mean the Bengal championships. But the latter though a major tournament is out of bounds for ranking purposes. Then Olga and Leela had not met at all. So their comparative strength is still in doubt. It is, therefore, clear that the ranking Committee has done a great injustice to Leela for no apparant reason. And they have favoured Mrs. McInnes in a most unjust way. I hope the A. I. L. T. A. would remedy this when the above list is placed before it for approval.

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

(By: A SUBURBAN MAN)

Did you see a rainbow this year? I am sure you did, cause I saw one sometime last week as I was standing under our suburban skies, somewhere near the Arabian Sea front. It reminds me that another rainbow is to provide a feast on Sunday from 7 p.m. to 11-30 p.m.

This I must tell you is to be the 'Rainbow Dance' to be held by the Bandra Gymkhana and I think it does not need any further introduction, for I am sure there is hardly a soul who has a complaint against this Gymkhana functions organised from its very interception, and this is due to the hard energetic social secretary, Mr. D. S. Anthogias, whose everobliging and jovial spirit is partly responsible for such crowded gatherings.

So if you are one of those that would like to be enjoying in a crowded hall, you should note that it does not necessarily mean that you ought to be dressed in rainbow colours. Any thing would do for this occasion, so be sure you get a ticket right now, for tickets can only be had from your friends who are members.

ACCIDENT ON GHODBUNDER ROAD

Ghodbunder Road has been the scene of quite a number of accidents and some time back the Bandra Police proposed having a speed limit on this road, but nothing has yet come out of it.

About 5-30 p.m. on Thursday last a private car owned by a Bombay merchant while proceeding towards Bombay near the junction of 7th Road, Khar, knocked down a child aged four years.

It appears that the child, who was walking with its mother, suddenly ran across the road. The driver of the car swerved to avoid the child and applied his brakes, but in vain. The child was injured on the head.

In this case I do not say that the child was to be blamed, for I am told that inquiries are yet in progress.

CATHOLIC CRICKET TOURNAMENT.

To-morrow at 10-30 a.m. starts the second round of the Bombay East Indian Association Open Bombay Suburban Catholic Cricket tournament and the match is to be played at Dander Green, Bandra, between the Chapel Road United and the Palli Club. I am told it is a promising game and I think all cricket fans must make it a point to witness it.

IN AND AROUND BOMBAY

From Our Staff Correspondents

Volunteering In Bombay

The appeal for volunteers by the Mayor of Bombay to make collections towards the Mayor's Famine Relief Fund, once again brings to the forefront the question of volunteering in all its aspects. It is nothing new either to Bombay or to other big cities to get hundreds of young men and women to volunteer their services for a particular cause. They come together for a few days and disperse. Most of them are untrained. A few of them discuss about future training. It is there in the air for some days and then the whole thing is forgotten till some other occasion brings together a batch of young men. Everyone realises that some proper training would render the work voluntarily given more efficient but very little is done towards giving or receiving that necessary training. After the Bombay session of the Indian National Congress, every one talked of bringing into existence a volunteer corps with the express object of rendering efficient national service. Practically nothing came out of the suggestion. Of course, the Bombay National Guards, the child of the Bombay Congress, has been there and has been doing its bit towards the training of young men. But very little enthusiasm is seen among the young men to receive training. Training is the most essential part of efficient service and practically everyone forgets this fact, excepting when occasions like the present one arise.

Assistance To Workers

There is no doubt about Bombay having numerous Volunteer Corps, but how many of them would be useful for occasions like the one referred to above? The Bombay Congress Socialists have on their agenda next week, consideration of the question of starting a Volunteer Corps. It is certainly a very welcome move, provided the young men so trained are volunteers and nothing more. With Mr. Meherally, an ex-G.O.C., amidst them, the Socialists should be able to bring into being a really very good batch of volunteers. We have volunteers and volunteers and very few of them are seen working among the working class. The need to-day is greater than ever for a volunteer corps of workers to work among the workers. It is an unfortunate experience that many of those moving among the workers consider themselves to be saviours of the workers. That exactly is the bane. This tendency should be discouraged as much as possible. An efficient nucleus of educated young men trained as volunteers along with a large number of workers would certainly lead towards the establishment of one of the best Volunteer Corps in the City. Such a thing is very hard to achieve. But a beginning ought to be made and if the Socialist Executive takes courage in both hands and launches a scheme, it is bound to succeed, if not today at least to-morrow. Will it do so?

A SACRED DUTY

The resumed debate in the Assembly on Dr. Khan Sahib's resolution relating to official interference in election campaigns was again remarkable for the exposure of official mentality. Incidentally we feel we must put on record our strong sense of indignation at what amounts to a deliberate and palpable attempt of the Associated Press of India to betray its fundamental duty. As a news agency, it owes it to its clients and to its own honour that its reports should be strictly fair and just. But its preferential inclination in connection with the debate leads us to wonder if Congress will have to reckon with this All-India Agency also during the ensuing elections. To revert to the debate, the defence of officialdom offered by Sir Henry Craik and that very typical prize-boy of the British bureaucracy, Mr. Griffiths, contains its own condemnation within itself. Sir Henry Craik sought to explain away the Court of Wards circular in terms and in a spirit which definitely amount to electioneering propaganda against the Congress by the Home Member of the Government of India. Apart from that the explanation itself is open to a few questions. Officers of Government wherever and to whomsoever lent become "non-officials" subject to the fundamental policy guiding Government Servants conduct rules. If their lent service conflicts with that policy they cannot remain in it.

Hostility Towards Congress

But the Home Member of the Government thinks otherwise and even goes to the length of suggesting the amazing proposition that a District Magistrate may place his knowledge at the disposal of the Court of Wards and through his guidance contribute to the election of one candidate as against another. If this is not interference what is? Worse still is the electioneering spirit of the speeches of Government members Sir Henry Craik, owing to greater experience, was more restrained but more subtle also, while the over-eloquent Mr. Griffiths actually blurted out the full official prejudice against "that tyrannical body, the Congress Party." That proved, as Pandit Pant pointed out, "the inveterate and deep-seated animosity of district officers against the Congress." He may quite justifiably have credited with the same feelings, Home Member and, in fact, all the subordinates of the Governor-General in India. The fact of official prejudice is obvious. Indeed Government spokesmen have openly confessed it. All that they have not so far done is to extend the present activities of the executive over the whole country and protest that they are unavoidable because of the past of the Congress and its future designs against the New Constitution but that they by no means constitute interference in elections by public servants.

Appeal For Election Fund

That developments are fast progressing in that direction is evident from the trend of speeches in the Assembly and executive "gestures" in the Frontier and certain districts in Northern India as typified by the instance of Sitapur in U. P. where Section 144 has been conveniently brought into operation against Congress meetings. The challenge to the Congress and to the Nation is unmistakable. In their appeal that has just been issued Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel draw attention to the general policy and programme as stated in the recent Manifesto and say: "The Indian National Congress offers a national platform to our countrymen and a united front against the forces that work for the continued domination and exploitation of India." This constitutes the raison d'etre of the Congress and its claim to the support of the mass of the people of this country. This also constitutes the issue on which opponents of the Congress, officials, non-officials, and "non-official" officials, are forming themselves into a rival united front. Considering the latter's resources, financial and otherwise, the task, in itself huge enough of organising three million voters and contesting 1,500 seats, becomes all the more huge and difficult. It requires the help of every single Indian who has understood the implications of the issue and nature of the fight ahead and it requires money. The response to the Congress leaders' appeal for contribution to election funds during the first fortnight of November is a sacred national duty which must be discharged by every Indian.

"Donkeying With The Ratio"

If India had a truly National Government to-day, the first step it would have taken at the present moment would have been to devalue the rupee, delink it from sterling and thus provide the country with a currency most advantageous to it, its industries and its agriculture. The Government in almost every other country has adopted the devaluation of its currency in self-defence. The French Socialist Premier fought hard against the devaluation of franc for several months, but found it inescapable. Even Mussolini, who, as Pundit Govind Vallabh Pant pointed out during the debate in the Assembly on the adjournment motion of Mr. Ayengar on the subject, had declared that Italy had given her blood for the lira and would remain on gold till the last, had also devalued the lira. But the Government of India, a subordinate Branch of the British Government, obstinately persist in a policy of sacrificing the interests of India on the altar of the sterling in utter defiance of public opinion and no better indication of their attitude could have been provided than by the contemptuous tone and the supercilious manner of the speech of Sir James Grigg. Pundit Govind Vallabh Pant vividly and tersely summed up all that could be said about this disastrous attitude—which finds supporters only in Ottawa Modys and Cowasjis—when he said that "while monkeying with the ratio must be avoided, donkeying with it was an expression of perverse stupidity". Though the Finance Member gloried in the obstinacy by interjecting that it was "fixed and immovable", he had not bargained for the retort of the Pundit: "The Government of India should not regard themselves as immovable for all time. We hope to oust them much sooner than they imagine". Indeed, we can never expect to get the currency we need until we become masters in our own house.

Another Purge?

What was vaguely feared is, it seems, about to materialise. When the Moscow trial accused having indulged in a unique orgy of self-denunciation proceeded to 'implicate' Rykov, Bukharen and Radek the two latter were whipped into further picturesque description of anti-revolutionary treachery of the accused and called for bloodthirsty vengeance. The "vengeance", of course, was meted out to the miserable 'self-confessed' guilty and Rykov, Bukharin and Radek escaped almost by a hair's breadth. But not for long. Rykov has been removed and Radek, "the mouthpiece of Stalin", has been arrested for serving, with others, as 'spy and wrecker of the Soviet Union and glory of their Imperialist and Fascist bosses". We shudder to think where it will all end. Stalin struck with brutal force at the 'Moscow Trial' accused who were all as distinguished servants of the revolution as he himself. He is evidently out to repeat the same process with others—Rykov is practically certain to join Radek in the prison and we are afraid Bukharin, the only remaining member, apart from Trotsky and Stalin, of Lenin's Old Guard, too might follow them. The question is: Is it a compliment to Stalin's leadership or a condemnation of it that all the best and the greatest among the Russian leaders should turn into a "band of scoundrels"? We personally do not believe that with the one glorious exception of M. Stalin—who, incidentally, happens to be in the seat of supreme power—all other tried leaders from Trotsky to Radek have so completely proved traitor to their life-principle which they have maintained through all the long years of struggle as to serve as "spies and wreckers of the Soviet Union and the glory of their Imperialist and Fascist bosses in order to hasten their return to power."

FROM ACROSS THE SEAS

Gleanings From The World Press

(BY OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT)

Rumours that Stalin's health is seriously undermined should be accepted with caution.

They have been spread before. Two years ago he was dying of cancer. This time it is angina pectoris. The rumours come from German sources, which are not reliable where Russia is concerned. They are not credited in French and British official circles.

From a neutral who has seen Stalin recently, it is learnt that his health and vigour are unimpaired. He is "vetted" by the doctors from time to time, but has always been given a more or less clean bill. He is now in his fifty-eighth year, and even the Russians admit that, if anything happened to him, Veroshiloff would be his successor. This is an interesting symptom of the changes which have taken place in Russia during the last year. Twelve months ago few people would have favoured Voroshiloff's chances. To-day, however, the army has become increasingly popular with the masses. It is regarded as the centre of progress. Voroshiloff, who began work in the mines at the age of seven and was afterwards a shepherd, has benefited greatly from this popularity. To-day he is the one Commisar in Moscow who drives his own car through the streets without the embarrassing attentions of an Ogpu guard.

American Election Humour

While Mr. Hearst's vigorous support of Mr. Landon has not left the Democrats unmoved, it continues to be a source of embarrassment to the Republicans.

Mr. Landon's campaign organisers fear that Mr. Hearst's assistance may be less of a help than a hindrance in the long run. American cartoonists are rejoicing in the situation. One drawing which has been sent to London shows that the "knock, knock" craze which has swept America has now reached the political arena.

The donkey which always symbolises the Democratic party is shown knocking on the door of the G.O.P.—represented by the traditional Republican elephant. To the elephant's inquiry, "Who's there?" the donkey answers, "Hearst".

This produces the inevitable, "Heart, who?" and the Democratic donkey, smiling broadly, replies, "Hearsts you worse than it does me".

Love Thy Neighbour

Here is a photograph from that pleasant weekly—"The New Yorker" on the world conditions!

We have heard from a man whose business took him over to the Squibb Building, on Fifth Avenue, the other day. He found himself the only passenger in one of the express elevators. The elevator had barely set out for the twenty-seventh floor, he says, when the elevator boy turned around, looked him in the eye, and said, "Love thy neighbour."

Convinced that he could not have heard correctly, our man played safe and said nothing. After a pause, the boy turned around again and said, this time a little more sternly, "Love thy neighbour".

"Why did you say that?" his passenger asked.

"World conditions," the lad said, crisply.

Traffic Control In New York

By drastically tightening its traffic laws New York is coming into line with other American cities and States which are waging a road-safety campaign.

New Jersey has substantially reduced fatalities by erecting large road-side placards. Each bears a figure representing the average number of road deaths per day in the district. But although New York is more heavily mechanised than any European city, the toll of the road there is surprisingly less heavy than London's. The official figures for street accidents in New York City for the first seven months of this year give a weekly average of 14 killed and 556 injured. For the City of London and Metropolitan Police district, for the period December 29, 1935, to August 17, 1936, the weekly averages were 19 killed and 1,060 injured.

OUR EUROPEAN LETTER

Germany And Goa

Russia's Immense Military Strength

(From Our Own Correspondent)

PRAGUE, October 1.

At the moment of writing, the topic most discussed in the European Press is the devaluation of the French franc. Although there have been in recent period constantly appeared speculations and references about such a move or measure, the actual adoption of it has come as a sudden step. Considerable significance, not only economic, but also political, is attached to the development, indicated also by the fact, that at Geneva discussions about it have for the while well overshadowed attention to other affairs. The Blum Government, which it will be remembered, came to power as one greatly opposed to devaluation, on an alteration in attitude now, it is viewed, has acted under keen pressure exerted from influential sections closely associated with finance and industry and impress of political currents released from abroad, which latter is looked upon as involving factors that will exercise weight in the direction of the Government retaining wide support In the economic sphere, the devaluation of the franc, as far as France is concerned, is expected to give a push to export trade and with it to French foreign trade in general and stop the flight of capital. The Government has at the same time announced its intention to see that unsatisfactory repercussions on wage conditions are checked. The new French move, it is felt, carried well the aim of leading French economy to assume a more active role in Europe. Following the recent Franco-Polish conversations in Warsaw and Paris considerable advance has been made in the direction of extending a French loan to Poland (a sum round 40 million pounds is indicated) and trade contacts with Poland as well. There are also now references to France trying to give added attention to financial and trade contacts with South-European States of the Balkan area, with many of which. German trade has made recently striking strides. The significance given to the French step in Berlin is indicated by Herr Hitler holding on its announcement a conference with the Minister of Economy, Herr Schacht, at which the Foreign Minister, Herr von Neurath, was also present. There are general speculations about France assuming, in some directions, a more active role in European affairs in the immediate future.

Soviet Union As A Military Factor

The Russian military manoeuvres held recent in the Minsk area have been watched with much interest in many centres. Russia's military state is a factor of added attention to-day above all in the light of the German-Russian tension To this tension, the last Nuremberg Congress of the Nazi Party has given an enhanced prominence. The latest military manoeuvres of Russia, as estimates of many experts indicate, record striking progress by Russia in most departments connected with military, directly and indirectly, the Russian military force representing a highly modernised and advanced one A performance that caused special interest and considerable surprise was the landing of forces in aeroplanes after a flight of over 100 miles with 150 machine guns behind the "enemy" lines at the manoeuvres. The landing (with parachutes) of over 1,200 persons from aeroplanes, it is stated, took only about eight minutes. The performance made a very great impression. Major-General Wevell, the head of the British delegation that attended the manoeuvres, is reported as mentioning that if he had not seen this operation with his own eyes he would never have believed such a thing possible. Russia's military advance stands as the biggest single factor in the way of aggressive aims against Soviet Union associated with Germany. Russia at present has also certain important foreign contacts in which prominent positions are taken by the Franco-Russian Pact and the Russian-Czechoslovakian Pact. The future of these Pacts remain still an issue of considerable speculative interest. German attention is closely directed to weakening of these Pacts, a move in which in various quarters it is thought that German stand derives considerable sympathy from Great Britain. The statement of the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden, last week at Geneva, with references to reform of the League in a way as to arouse German interest and concentration of attention but to a Western Pact, has aroused considerable interest in certain centres.

Italy's Foreign Policy

The discussions of last week in Geneva have brought a fresh interest in the foreign policy of Italy. Comments of various papers, based to a great extent on expressions of reactions in Rome to the visit to South-Eastern Europe of the English King and the trip to the Mediterranean of Sir Samuel Hoare, the First Lord of the Admiralty, indicate estimation of continuance of Anglo-Italian train. In connection with considerations of Italian foreign policy, much interest is devoted to Rome's attitude towards Germany and Soviet Union. The generally well-informed Rome correspondent of the Vienna daily "Neue Freie Presse" in a lengthy article this week says that the care for manifestation of friendship with Germany expressed now in Rome would seem to represent more calculations of gaining certain bargaining advantages than a definite commitment or turn to the line of an alliance with Germany, and that, as regards the relation with Soviet Union, though interest in Fascist form of State implies Italian association with moves that reflect strengthening of Fascist ideas, Rome, unlike Berlin, does not maintain a rigid line of hostility to Soviet Union. Italy, writes the correspondent, in fact would appear to keep in mind the possibility of getting advantages out of an elastic attitude to Soviet Union. There is the suggestion of

FRANKLY SPEAKING

"HERE'S TO HYPOCRISY"!

The British Labour Party has made a hearty meal of its fundamental principles and washed it down with an equally hearty toast to hypocrisy. This is the meaning of the "emergency" resolution on Palestine passed by the Conference at Edinburgh. The resolution "upheld the principle of the Government of the country under the existing mandate" and hoped that "the British Government would take all necessary steps to end disorders in Palestine." What an amazing and shameless perversion of Socialism it is to proclaim acceptance of the principle of mandates after this very principle had been constantly and publicly condemned as an Imperialist device to exploit the helpless and the backward. And what a complete betrayal of Labour's pledge to uphold the principle of self-determination! But, we in India, know what exactly the British Labour Party is.

BENEVOLENT IMPERIALISM

Professor Slater's letter in the 'Manchester Guardian', extracts from which have been cabled by our London correspondent, is representative of the 'benevolent' British Imperialists who support the grant of a wider measure of responsibility to Indians because otherwise they are afraid India may be lost to the Empire. "The growth of national self-confidence and political alertness in India," he says, "offers Britain the opportunity to strengthen its foundations by the effective transfer of responsibility for the Indian Government to the people of India." The Imperialistic motif, it will be seen, has been nicely blended with unctuous benevolence. "We are in India", he adds, 'professedly for the good of Indian masses who are appallingly poor' and condescendingly suggests that such men as President Jawaharlal "should be heartily welcomed as co-adjutors" and should neither be prosecuted nor repeatedly imprisoned for actions which have the material and moral advance of their countrymen as their sole object'. It is significant that generous 'friends of India' like Professor Slater do not envisage, even in the distant future, India being the sole adjustor of her own affairs.

FAMINE RELIEF APPEAL

The citizens of Bombay need hardly be reminded that to-day will be observed as the Famine Relief Day. In order to Facilitate the work of volunteers and also to ensure the collection of rupees five lakhs, the sum computed to be necessary for the purpose, the Mayor's Committee has now decided to continue the work for a whole week. The public in this city, therefore, owe it to themselves to see that the Mayor's appeal receives a generous response. It is needless to expatiate here on the acute conditions that prevail in some parts of the Presidency at present. Suffice it to say that the peasantry is faced with a critical situation to-day, and that it is anxiously looking to this great city for succour and salvation. Let none be lulled into apathy by the belief that famine relief is solely the concern of the Government. No doubt the duty primarily devolves upon them, but, as the Mayor's appeal observes, 'the administrative machine moves slowly" and, we may add, parsimoniously; and it is thus necessary for the public to contribute their mite in the cause of humanity. We echo the hope of the Mayor that the citizens of Bombay will once more demonstrate during the next few days that "the springs of charity flow in their hearts as ever before, and that the cry of distress never reaches them in vain."

—BAHADUR

There is something inordinately amusing about the haughty sensitiveness which the Government of India always display whenever the question of titles is raked up, although whether it is from a sense of guilt or sheer modesty one cannot say. Mr. Sri Prakash's letter catalogues a series of motions and questions which he tabled in the Assembly but which were refused permission, on the Governor-General's well-known plea that 'the matter is not the primary concern of the Governor-General-in-Council". Perhaps, the unconscious irony of these words with reference to the award of titles entirely escaped His Excellency's mind. For there are not a few who seriously believe that by far one of the most important duties of the head of the Indian Government is the consideration of these half-yearly 'Honours'. Anyway one should now give up hope of drawing the bureaucracy into a controversy about the ethics of title-conferment. In fact it is rather unkind to keep on reminding them of a subject which somehow disturbs their peace of mind. But we truly regret the Governor-General's refusal to consider—they may not be the concern of the Governor-General but they certainly are of his other excellent self, the 'Viceroy'—two of Mr. Sri Prakasha's suggestions, both of which are calculated to make the scheme of titles more useful and more comprehensive. One of these recommended recovery of "settled fees from individuals before bestowing any particular title on them with a view to the enhancement of revenues"—a sound, financial proposition which at least Sir James Grigg ought to have welcomed. The other which provided for the addition of certain new titles is an even better proposition. A few more kinds of 'Bahadurs', to say nothing of 'Sahibs', as Mr. Sri Prakasha suggested, would greatly enhance the variety and charm of titles. To his list we may add a few more—Maulvi Sahib and Maulvi Bahadur, Seth Sahib and Seth Bahadur. The great fraternity of aspirants to Bahadurship would doubtless welcome a wider range from which to make their selection. In their interests we would request Mr. Sri Prakash to keep on with his laudable efforts. May be one day he will be rewarded for them with a "Title Bahadur".

Why Not Brighter Bombay Suburbs?

We most heartily congratulate the Associated Press of India and its Simla "Editors" on the giddily high standard of fairness and impartiality as between Government and Opposition which it has shown in reporting speeches on Dr. Khan Sahib's resolution.

Simla circles, it appears, were surprised when the Viceroy allowed Mr. Anantasayanam urging devaluation of the rupee as a similar motion had been axed only a week before when it was tabled by Mr. Kazmi.

REBELS CAPTURE NAVALPERAL

MADRID, Oct. 8.

It is admitted that Navalperal, one of the Government's strongholds, 25 miles north-west of Madrid, was captured by the insurgents after three days' fight, and the Government troops retired to Lasnavas after the rebels had shelled and bombed the town throughout the night. The insurgents' success is chiefly due to their superiority in the air.

The fall of Navalperal may open the way to Madrid through Elescorial, but it is understood the Government intend stoutly to defend this sector.

Plans About King's Coronation And Delhi Durbar

CALCUTTA, Oct. 8

The London correspondent of the "Ananda Bazar Patrika", Calcutta, wires that, the probable date of the Delhi Durbar in connection with His Majesty the King Emperor's Coronation in India, will be fixed at sometime in January, 1938.

According to latest information, the King is anxious to attend the Durbar personally.

The decision in this connection is most likely be announced during the next Session of Parliament, if not in a speech from the Throne.

According to reliable Conservative sources, a general amnesty to prisoners, including a large number of detenus and political prisoners, has been decided in principles about next May, when King Edward would be crowned in England.

SLAVERY IN SAUDI ARABIA

Increased Facilities For Emancipation

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Great Britain and Saudi Arabia have agreed not to exercise for seven years the right to terminate the Treaty of Jedda; they have also agreed to the modification of certain provisions of the treaty, the most important of which relates to slavery.

The British Government has abandoned the right of manumission in pursuance of the undertaking given in 1927 and in view of the decree of the Saudi Government whereby importing slaves from any country unless recognised as slaves in their country of origin is forbidden. The modifications also provide for greatly increased facilities of manumission in Saudi Arabia and provisions for the better treatment of slaves.—Reuter.

DURGHA BILL

Muslims' Representation To Govt

SIMLA, Oct. 9.

The life of the present Council of State lapses at the end of this month. This fact has raised difficulties in the way of Khwaja Durgha Shrine (Ajmer) Bill being placed on the Statute book, even though it was passed by the Council of State. For, understanding orders, the Bill must be passed by the Assembly before the life of the originating chamber (Council of State) lapses.

In order to overcome this difficulty, Muslim members of the Assembly are sending representation to the Government requesting the allotment of an official date in the current session, so that the Bill might be taken up and disposed of.—A. P. Special

The Romance Of Words

Abracadabra

Although this has become a mere senseless word used by conjurers, chiefly, to give an additional touch of mystery to their tricks, it was once believed to be a magic word.

It was used by a secret sect as a charm to ward off or cure such ailments as ague, flux and tooth-ache. The word was written on parchment, and underneath the same word was repeated ten times, each time being shortened by one letter, the whole taking the form of a triangle. This parchment was then suspended from the magician's neck by a linen thread. The word itself is believed to have been concocted from the Hebrew Ab-Ben-Ruach (Father-Son-Holy Spirit).

SOLUTION FOR HARIJAN PROBLEM

MADRAS, October 8.

"The Harijan problem will solve itself if bigger problems of unemployment, illiteracy and poverty of masses are solved.

"The really big problem can ultimately be solved only by the State co-operating with the public. But the State in India functions in such a frame that, it cannot solve the problem. Hence a change is wanted."

Thus declared Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru, replying to a welcome address presented to him by the staff and students of the Kodambakkam Industrial Institute for Harijans in the Institute premises. A large section of public was also present to hear the Congress President. Mr. Nageswara Rao Pantulu, M.L.A., presided.

Continuing Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru said that it was his definite opinion that the problem of untouchability and other social disabilities could not be tackled by sporadic measures but bigger measures were necessary.

Talking about the Institution itself, Pundit Jawaharlal said that he was not interested in the institution, either in the handicrafts taught there, or its buildings, but only in the human material it produced. He wanted to see marks of courage and character in their eyes and faces.

He did not discourage, however, smaller attempts here and there because the welfare of these people might spread with their present training and they might be teachers and guides of others and thus serve the country.

The Congress President was then taken around several departments of the institution and was presented with an artistic cane basket and a plate prepared by the students of the Institution.—United Press.

GREATEST LIVING PRACTICAL SOCIALIST

But Gandhiji Does Not Stand For Class Struggle

In celebration of the "Gandhi Jayanti" a largely attended public meeting was held on Thursday night in the Nappoo Hall at Matunga. Mr. Jinabhai P. Joshi, President of the 'F' Ward District Congress Committee, presided.

Mr. S. K. Patil spoke for about an hour on Gandhiji and his philosophy and declared that the Mahatma would be worshipped as long as History lived. He spoke of the phenomenal contribution that Gandhiji had made to the cause of human progress by his creed of non-violence and he showed how by his campaigns non-violent non-co-operation, the civil disobedience movements and various other constructive activities, he gave a new content to the term "Swaraj" which was till his advent in Indian politics, but a conception, an idea. His campaign in Champaran and Kaira, his epic fast in the cause of the Harijans, marked him out as the man of the "under-dog". The speaker challenged any one to dispute his claim that Mahatma Gandhi was the greatest living practical Socialist. But he confessed that the Mahatma did not believe in Marxism, and his Socialism did not admit of class struggle though he wanted that classes should develop consciousness in regard to their rights. The Mahatma, that was to say, believed that it was possible to ameliorate the miserable condition of India's teeming millions with the goodwill of the richer classes.

Mr. Jinabhai Joshi thanked Mr. Patil after which the meeting terminated.

In The Assembly

WHY NOT COMMON LAWS FOR ALL COMMUNITIES?

Sant Singh On Arya Marriages Bill

MUSLIM FEARS UNJUSTIFIED SAYS ASAF ALI

SIMLA, Oct. 9.

Question hour to-day was dull, there being very few supplementary questions. There were cheers from all sides of the House, when the question answered reached the figure of 1,000.

ADJOURNMENT MOTION.

Mr. Mohanlal Saxena attempted to move an adjournment motion to discuss the alleged failure of the Government of India to secure secrecy of ballot in the Punjab as recommended by the Assembly. When asked by the President whether a similar motion in connection with the United Provinces election rules had not been disallowed by the Governor-General, Mr. Saxena replied "that is true, but these rules relate to the Punjab which are slightly different from U. P. Rules. Moreover, the Governor-General may not be in Simla (as yesterday) to disallow my motion if permitted. (Laughter).

The President disallowed the motion.

A. M. V. BILL.

The House resumed discussion on the Arya Marriages Validation bill.

Sardar Sant Singh said that the laws relating to evidence and procedure were already common to all communities. The time had come when various communities should pool their resources together, sit together and devise common laws of marriage, succession and inheritance.

Mr. Bhagwandas said that this was a unique Assembly in the world in which members of all religions and communities met. It was for them to set an example of tolerance. He hoped Mr. Bajoria would see the true meaning of caste system and desist from obstructing this bill.

The House then adjourned for lunch

The Ladies Gallery was overcrowded.

Mr. Aney said he was not opposed to the principle of the Bill, but there was other side of the picture which he wanted to be elucidated.

MAULANA'S SYMPATHY

Mr. Shaukat Ali advised the House to discuss all social legislations with dignity and patience. His fullest sympathy was with the Arya Samajists.

Mr. Bajoria's amendment which proposed to invalidate marriages, if one of the parties belonged to non-Arya Samajist, Hindus or non-Hindus, was rejected.

Sir Mahomed Yakub moved an amendment to the effect that a marriage should be invalid, if the contracting parties at any time belonged to a religion other than Hinduism. He said that the Muslims feared that this legislation would affect their religion. Sardar Sant Singh's suggestion for a common marriage and succession laws in India could not be supported by the Muslims whose religion was not man-made. The religion of Islam was a godly religion. It gave women privileges, which no other religion gave.

Mr. Kabiruddin Ahmad interrupting asked: What about purdah? (prolonged laughter).

SHEER BOGEY

Mr. Asaf Ali declared that the Muslim fears were unjustified, being based purely on suspicion, for the Bill clearly stated that the marriage must be between two Arya Samajists. The movers of the two amendments had wasted two days of the House.

Sir Mahomed Zafrullah asked: "What is the position at present of a marriage between two Arya Samajists (man and woman) who at one time belonged to other religions".

Mr. Bhulabhai Desai expressed the opinion that such a marriage was valid under the present law.

Mr. Asaf Ali concluding declared that words objected by Sir Mahomed Yakub in the Bill merely cleared the present position. The Bill, therefore, would not affect the Muslims. He opposed the amendment.

DANGER OF SEDUCTION

Syed Murtaza supporting Sir Mohamed Yakub's amendment said the Bill was not restricted to conversion before marriage but applied to people who at any time belonged to non-Hindu religion. The Bill would make invalid a marriage which according to Islamic Law would be invalid.. He told Mr. Kabiruddin that Islam did not enjoin "Purdah" but only modesty.

Ghulam Bhik Nairang regretted that Mr. Asaf Ali had tried to speak as a judicial authority. He warned the House that already numerous cases of seduction of women of one community or the other had occurred. This Bill would give encouragement to those engaged in this nefarious game. The Bill would encourage fake conversions and be in conflict with the established laws of various communities.

WHAT IS WRONG IN IT?

Pt. Krishna Kant Malaviya said that those who wished to deprive Muslim girls of the right of marrying a Hindu husband by becoming an Arya Samajist should stop Muslim girls going to schools and attending parties. If a Hindu girl could become a Muslim and marry a Muslim husband what was wrong if a Muslim girl could become a Hindu and marry a Hindu husband.

Mr. Azhar Ali said this was the first time in his five years membership that religious fanaticism on both sides had found expression. He contended that this was bad on the eve of election. The Hindu religion did not permit conversions.

Maulana Shaukat Ali said he would be the last Muslim to encourage a Muslim girl embracing another religion. He supported the amendment.

The House adjourned till tomorrow.—A.P.

PERMANENT PRESIDENT FOR CONGRESS

Pandit Jawaharlal's Opposition

MADRAS, Oct. 8.

"I shall carry on in much the same way, if people will listen to me, whether I am President or not," declared Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, replying to an address presented by Madras jewellers today.

Referring to the statement made in one of the addresses that he should become a kind of permanent President, the Pandit said that, as he had stated on previous occasions, it was an objectionable procedure, and he was opposed to it. There was too much talk of offices, municipal councillorships membership of the Council or that of the Assembly. There was too much competition for this. He would ask them to remember that a person who was keen about it was the most unsuited for it.

PATNA POLICE BAFFLED

But Two Suspects Arrested In Connection With Explosions

PATNA, October 9.

The Kotwali police have arrested last night from the vicinity of Patna junction two youngmen while loitering in a suspicious manner. The suspects claim to be residents of Gorakhpur. They have, however, been detained in lock-up pending enquiries into their credentials. It is understood that the arrest is in connection with the recent two bomb explosions, one in the court of the Patna Chief Justice and the other in the Patna junction railway station.

The police admit that they are baffled to a certain extent owing to the absence of any significant clues. They are, however, working on a theory that the two explosions are inter-connected and the same person or set of persons are responsible for the explosions —United Press.

TOWARDS PEACE OR WAR?

An Indian Businessman On Anglo-French-American Agreement

(From Our Correspondent).
MEERUT, (By Mail)

In an interview, Mr. Sam Ernest Devalal, a leading businessman and a former Secretary of the Northern India Sugar Mills Association and who has been connected with some Monetary Associations in the country, said:

We are given to understand that the new Tripartite Monetary agreement is the beginning of economic peace in Europe which in my humble opinion is a bundle of lies and humbug.

To be frank it is the foreshadow of a European or an International War. The decision to devalue the Franc, Sterling and the Dollar has three motives. Firstly to preserve their gold holdings which, in case of war, would stand them in good stead. Secondly to facilitate the financing of intensive and speedy armament and thirdly to encourage and promote their export trade. The method adopted is by no means such which would embrace all the major and minor States and countries of the world. It is abundantly clear that the gain of the parties to this agreement will be the loss of the outsider. The decision is not based on sound monetary principles and cannot by any chance promote any economic peace in Europe or abroad.

A country like India is bound to Finance Member Sir James Grigg, the Government means to maintain the same ratio and thus allow the export of gold to continue. India has already exported more than what can reasonably be said to be safe for the country, but it seems that Government are bent upon depriving the country of her gold and building the gold reserves of the Bank of England. Due to this new monetary policy imports into India will be encouraged and in a good number of cases Indian industries will find it difficult to hold their own against foreign competition with depreciated currencies.

If an economic peace has to be established it should not be only for Europe but for the whole world. Artificial and arbitrary methods of devaluation of the currencies will not help matters. Introduction of silver is the only practical and sane method of bringing about international economic peace, wherein Europe America, Asia, Africa can equally co-operate and enjoy revival of international trade, commerce and industry."

Harvard's Tercentenary

A by-product of Harvard's tercentenary celebrations has been the compilation, by a distinguished committee of selectors, of a roll of the most eminent sons of the University.

It is limited to fifty names, and living graduates are, of course, ignored. The list is certainly an imposing one. Three Presidents of the United States—John Adams, John Quincy Adams, and Theodore Roosevelt—figure in it. Authors constitute the largest section, for the roll includes Bancroft, Dana, Emerson, Fiske, Holmes, William James, Lowell, Motley, Parkman, Prescott, and Thoreau. Science is represented by Agassiz, Newcomb, Theodore, W. Richards, and Shalor. Among the well-known preachers we find Phillips, Brooks, William Ellery Channing, Edward Everett Hale, and Theodore Parker. Five presidents of Harvard have been considered worthy of mention—namely, Eliot, Everett, Increase Mather, Quincy, and Sparks.

Among others whose distinction was gained in various fields are J. H. Choate, Judge Holmes, Senator Hoar, Samuel Gridley Howe, Millet, Charles Eliot Norton, Wendell Phillips, H. H. Richardson, and Judge Story. No wonder other American universities say of Harvard that "You can always tell a Harvard man—but you can't tell him much."

WHY NOT BRIGHTER BOMBAY SUBURBS?

port very recently submitted by the Committee appointed by the Government of Bengal to enquire into and advise Government on the question of charges levied by the Calcutta Electric Corporation Ltd., for electric energy etc. and to the recommendations made by the Committee in that report for reductions in the charges 'inter alia' (1) for electric energy supplied for lighting etc. purposes (2) for heating and cooking purposes and (3) for monthly meter hire, and he be requested to report through the Tramways and Telephone Committee the ways and means to be adopted for securing similar and other reductions in the charges levied by the Bombay Electric Supply and Tramway Co. Ltd."

The remarks made by Mr. Goregaonkar in moving his resolution were illuminating. He pointed out that the Calcutta Electric Company had taken up a defiant attitude as regards the charges levied by it till 1935 when the matter was referred to a special Committee by the Bengal Government and as a result of the very scathing report by that Committee the Company had immediately during the month of May of this year to reduce its charges considerably for most of the services. Light charges are to be 2 annas per unit, heating charges ¾ of an anna, and meter hire only 4 annas per month in place of 8 annas. The Committee says that this is only the first step and declares that "further reductions will be possible in the near future." At present the Suburban Electric Company is charging for electricity at the rate of 5 annas per unit (lighting) and meter hire annas 8 per month. It is to be hoped that the Suburban Electric Company will see its way to reduce its charges without pressure being brought to bear upon it. It is true that the Company has only a few connections per mile, but even so the charges which it levies are very high indeed compared to the revised rates of the Calcutta Company. Apart from everything else, the Company is bound to reduce the 'meter hire charges' inasmuch as the meters used in Calcutta and Bombay Suburban District are probably the same. The Company will no doubt bring forward various arguments in favour of their charge, but looking to the cost of the meter and its life, the charge is undoubtedly abnormal and it must be reduced forthwith. Will not the Bandra Municipality or any of the other local bodies in the suburbs take up the question and follow the example of the Bombay Municipal Corporation?—Yours, etc.,

UNWANTED LIQUOR SHOP

Protest Against New Location At J. J. Hospital

Bombay has been notorious for having its liquor-shops located in the most odd places, thus causing the public maximum amount of annoyance, inconvenience and harm.

The Local Government's, and particularly the Excise Minister's, policy regarding prohibition has been so very sympathetic of late, that liquor-shops have been noticed springing up overnight like mushrooms, no matter what little distance lies between them.

For example, in lanes and by-lanes of even such short-distance as about 50 yards, something like two or even three shops have been kept.

Shifted to J. J. Hospital.

About a couple of years ago, a strong agitation was carried on in the local Press regarding a particular country-liquor shop, located near a temple and in the vicinity of a playground—in Cavel Road, we believe,—both these places being frequented by women and children in the evenings. There were always drunken brawls and people were rightly afraid of harm being done to their women and children.

Now comes the case of a liquor-shop, which was situated for many years near the Jacob's Circle. The owner of this shop recently requested the authorities to permit him to shift his shop to a building at Sir Ibrahim Rahimtoolah Road, at the corner of the J.J. Hospital. His request has been granted and he has been allowed, in the first instance, to have it there for three months from the 1st inst. with a view, presumably, to a permanency.

In this connection, a letter has been addressed by 143 Muslims, mostly residents of this building and of the vicinity, headed by Mr. M. A. Harriss, Editor of "Ajmal," to the Collector of Excise, Bombay, requesting the latter to order the removal of the shop from that locality to some other place, as the corner of J.J. Hospital is considered to be a "red spot" of the city, and it is essential that the locality should be kept calm and quiet for all hours of the day.

Mr. Ganpatrao Bapuji Velkar, a resident of Umarkhadi and a fellow of the Theosophical Society, wrote to the Collector of Bombay, on the 5th inst., drawing his attention to the above petition and also requesting that immediate steps be taken to remove the shop from the locality.

Mr. Velkar has sent a copy of this letter to the Home Member to the Government of Bombay requesting him to look into the matter and expedite matters.

FILM FARE FOR THE WEEK

"Green Pastures" at the Opera this week.

'GREEN PASTURES'—SCREEN'S GREAT PRODUCTION

A Magnificent Film At Opera House

Something new and different, as refreshing as the clean breath of an ocean breeze across hot lands comes to the screen of the Opera House to-day when the Warner Bros. production "The Green Pastures," has its local premiere.

In picturizing Marc Connelly's famous Pulitzer Prize play, which ran for five years on the stage and enthralled millions, Warner Bros. have given the drama a lavishness of production that far outstrips the stage play. The transfer of the play to the screen cost it nothing of its quaint humor and inspirational characterization, but added much in the magnitude of spectacular background and settings.

The picture hailed by some critics as the "Modern Divine Comedy" and "America's best loved play," is indeed a veritable classic in its simplicity, its poignant beauty and remarkable characterizations. Its rich humor is happy and appropriate, yet so tactfully presented that it evokes smiles both tender, and reverent.

Connely, author of the stage play, who collaborated on the screen drama with Sheridan Gibney and co-directed it with William Keighley, has succeeded in creating what will undoubtedly be conceded one of the most outstanding cinematic productions ever made and one of universal appeal.

The scenic effects, impossible on the stage, are remarkable for both their beauty and grandeur The creation of the world, the story being evolved from the most primitive concept of the Bible, evolving from a formless mass of vapor and resolving itself into water and then a sphere with well defined continents and oceans, is something that only the magic of the cinematographer's art could present.

Nor could there be produced anywhere except on the screen the scene of the great Flood in which Noah's Ark stars on its forty day voyage, riding the raging seas until the waters subside and it is able to land on Mount Ararat.

Other truly marvellous sets include the barbaric Babylonian place and the gilded night club where the wicked King held his nightly revels to syncopated song and the rhythm of comely dancing girls; and the village in the Deep South, with its church, its night clubs and gambling dens.

The remarkable characterization by the cast makes "The Green Pastures" one of the most human dramas ever presented. The players have carried out their roles with a simplicity and naturalness that is unsurpassed. Their quaint dialogue and picturesque phraseology add much both to the humor and unique charm of the production.

The beauty of the production is greatly enhanced by twenty-five melodious spirituals sung by the famous Hall Johnson choir of sixty voices. Some of these spirituals are in full voice with the singers on the set, and others are faint and haunting melodies acting as background music.

Mr. Connelly and Mr. Keighley cannot be given too high praise for the way they have carried out their directorial work on the production, nor can Hal Mohr for his wonderful photographic effects. The play itself was suggested by an intriguing novel by Roark Bradford.

HISTORIC WAX WORKS IN HEPBURN MOVIE

HOLLYWOOD.

Madame Taussaud's wax works in London, one of the most famous exhibitions in the world during the Victorian regime, has been authentically reconstructed for scenes in RKO Radio's "Portrait of a Rebel" co-starring Katherine Hepburn and Herbert Marshall.

Among the interesting figures which attracted the attention of London visitors of the day were Henry VIII and his six wives, Queen Elizabeth, Napoleon and William the Conqueror. The entire exhibit was modelled after contemporary prints.

BASHFUL GRIDDER IN ROMANTIC FILM ROLE

HOLLYWOOD.

Undoubtedly the most bashful of the contingent of All-American football players who appear in RKO Radio's "The Big Game" is Frank Alustiza, star quarterback on the Stanford team for the past three years.

And ironically enough, Frank was the only football player assigned a love-making role by director George Nicholls, Jr.

Blonde Barbara Pepper was the object of his ardor, and she reported that he scored three touchdowns and a field goal as a screen Romeo

FAMOUS TENOR'S FINE PERFORMANCE IN "REMEMBER TO-NIGHT"

At The Regal

An entertaining and magnificently produced film starring one of the world's leading tenors is to be seen from to-day, at the Regal Theatre. The film is "Remember Tonight" ("Forget Me Not") and the singer is Beniamino Gigli, held by many to be the greatest tenor.

In addition to his wonderful voice, Gigli brings to bear a powerful personality and reveals himself as a first-class actor in a story written especially for him. The result is a grand performance in an exceptionally fine picture. The story has a Pagliacci ring about it. Gigli plays the role of Enzo Curti, an internationally famous singer. He is a widower with a small boy, who is the cause of his marriage to Helen Carlton, secretary to a business man. There is a whirlwind courtship and the pair marry and embark upon a world cruise.

Arrived in London, memories of a former romance are revived when Helen meets Hugh Anderson, a young ship's officer. He is leaving for Australia, and foolishly tells Irene who is in love with him, that he is taking Helen. Irene sends a telegram to Curti which reaches him just before he is due to go on the stage. Helen is in the box, but prepares to leave. Curti sees her go and makes a final plea to her by throwing himself into the words of song. He returns home alone, miserable and dejected. He sings a lullaby to his son, and as the words trail away into sobs Helen enters and lays her head upon his shoulder. Alexander Korda's beautiful discovery, Joan Gardner, makes an appealing figure of Helen, and fully justifies the confidence shown in casting her for this difficult role. The comedy touches are supplied in inimitable fashion by Hugh Wakefield, the supreme master of obvious imbecilities. The sound recording is flawless, and the photography, in the hands of Hans Scheeberger, is a perfect example of the German art of controlled light and shade. An exceptionally song supporting cast includes Ivan Brandt. Jeanne Sturat, Allan Jeayes, Hay Petrie, Charles Carson and a delightful child Richard Gofe.

SPECTACLE AND MODERNITY IN "THINGS TO COME"

At The Capitol

Written by H. G. Wells, Britain's most eminent novelist, and produced by Alexander Korda at a cost exceeding £250,000, "Things to Come" is the most ambitious picture ever made by a British company. Conceived on a grandiose scale the filming of this immense theme was only made possible by the ingenuity of first class technicians. The story, which was adapted by the author from his book "The Shape of Things to Come" opens in "Everytown," a prosperous pleasure-loving city. The population, blindly ignoring signs of impending war are celebrating Christmas. John Cabal, an aviator, is one of the few to foresee the tragedy overshadowing them. Without warning, hostilities break out and Everytown is reduced to ruins. Pestilence and famine sweep the world. Civilisation gives way to Barbarism. Sporadic fighting is carried on by men armed with primitive weapons under the command of various Bosses. Cabal, comes through the disaster unscathed and gathers about him a band of men who aim to rebuild the world. Order gradually takes the place of chaos. The work is carried on by a grand council. Economic and social problems are solved but thirsty for still more progress man pushes on to new discoveries with restless energy.

"Things To Come" at the Capitol—this week.

A machine is invented to project people to the moon. A man and a woman are selected for the first expedition, but the experiment meets with widespread opposition. The attempt is successful, but humanity is left doubting whether it will ever find contentment and happiness. "Things to Come" was directed by W. Cameron Menzies. The special efforts models and trick camera work was carried out under the supervision of Ned Mann, who is probably the leading specialist in the sphere. The elaborate and spectacular settings were designed by Vincent Korda, assisted by Frank Wells, the son of H. G. Wells. The cast includes Raymond Massey, Cedric Harwicke, Ralph Richardson, Maurice Braddel, Edward Chapman, Sophie Stewart, Derrick De Marney and Margaretta Scott. "Things to Come" will be revived at the Capitol Theatre for 7 days from Saturday, 10th October daily at 4, 6-30 and 10 p.m.

"SAN FRANCISCO"

Retained At The Central

In "San Francisco" which at the Central from to-day Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has again hit the bull's-eye with a sensational picture that should prove sure-fire box-office success for several reasons. It brings together for the first time three of the most popular stars of the screen—Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy. It produces on the screen some of the most hair-raising, realistic scenes of a great catastrophe ever before filmed. It was directed by W. S. Van Dyke, who never misses in correctly feeling and pulse of the public to provide for them the expected tempo in all the films he directs. And it brings again to the screen that lovely voice of Miss MacDonald who covers a wider range of musical numbers than she has ever accomplished before—not only the most difficult operatic, arias, but ragtime tunes and even the most beautiful of religious hymns. "San Francisco" is the story of Blakie Norton, lord of the old Barbary Coast before the San Francisco disaster in 1906. Into his resort wanders a small-town girl with great ambitions to become a singer. Gable, as Blackie, engages the girl to entertain his rowdy customers and from the dance hall she rises to heights as an opera star to thrill the hearts of San Francisco's music lovers. Later she returns to Blackie, who does not realize the depth of his love for the girl until he finds it in the destruction and suffering of the San Francisco disaster. This new picture brings back the Clark Gable of old, rugged, two-fisted and believing in nothing but his own power and his fascination over women. Too, it brings to the screen a new Jeanette MacDonald with a voice that seems more beautiful, if that is possible, and revealing her as a very delightful comedienne, particularly when she gives her vision of hip-swaying torch singing in Blackie's Paradise Cafe.

"THE PRINCESS COMES ACROSS"

At Pathe

An alluring title with Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray to sell, it, following their cliik in 'Hands Across the Table,' gives "The Princess Comes Across" strong initial advantage indicating prosperous business in spots where it counts most.

Picture is broadly stated satirical comedy, kidding Hollywood's snobbish and eager deference for anyone parading a title, with murder mystery obligato. Carole Lombard struts the title as a self-proclaimed Swedish princess whose only asset is a broad accent, an arrogant manner and an equally phoney duenna in the person of Alison Skipworth.

Pair of pretenders, really show folk from Brooklyn, are on way to America to assume picture contract secured on strength of presumed royalty. They fall in with Fred MacMurray, an orchestra leader, an assortment of international detectives on way to convention, a blackmailer and a murderous escaped convict on board ship. Killing of blackmailer and of one of detectives casts suspicion on princess and forces her to reveal true identity during liquidation of romance with MacMurray, the mysterious killings and the comicalities which tie fates of principals on shipboard together.

Carole Lombard plays her role with amusing farcical Swagger, creating outstanding portrait of chorus girl posing in what will generally be accepted as caricature of a screen celeb. MacMurray is agreeably flip and assured in dealing romantically and protectively with the girl whose identity he early suspects and in drawing murderer into trap which almost costs his own life.

Douglass Dunbrille shrewdly plays his guise as one of the detectives, turning out to be the killer. Alison Skipworth's role is somewhat negative but she reads her lines effectively for sarcastic humour. William Frawley cops his full share of laughs as MacMurray's companion. Porter Hall makes his brief role as blackmailer stand out.

George Barbier is well cast as ship's captain. Lumsden Hare, Sig Rumann, Mischa Auer, Tetsu Kormai expertly carry off parts of detectives who are rather easily befuddled and outwitted. Bradley Page skilfully holds suspicion on himself as mysterious stranger. Bennie Bartlett does a nifty with a mere couple of eyebrow liftings.

Story developed from novel by Louis L. Rogger and yarn suggestion by Philip MacDonald in screen play by Walter DeLeon, Francis Martin, Frank Butler and Don Hartman is highly artificial concoction but skilfully musters laughs and manages to build up suspense, along with the farcing. In the mysterious melodramatics. Dialogue, especially in romantic passages, and in Miss Lombard's caricaturing, is delightful. Tale is a bit complex in spots but not enough to detract from audience enjoyment.

William K. Howard's direction ably develops the love story, keeps suspense alert through the killings and the self-induced expose of the poseur's identity and holds picture to its humorous keynote with nice balance of entertainment values.

Arthur Hornblow, Jr., has produced with intelligent mustering of all the entertainment elements, getting compact, showmanly results from personnel and from material including wider range of ingredients than usual. Production is lavish and colourful.

Italian foreign policy not being visualized by Sig. Mussolini in close association with Britain as the German greatly is by Herr Hitler. At the moment, Italian attitude is one of much irritation and resentment, followng apprehension of England having advanced in gaining contacts round the Mediterranean suited to check expansion of Italian hold. The economic position of Italy is also now one of much rigour. There is no overlooking of Rome sensing a development of isolation. The effect of this on Rome's orientations to France and Czechoslovakia is awaited at present with much interest.

Consolidation Of The Little Entente

Czechoslovakia, a key State in Europe of considerable significance and the most virile factor of the Little Entente has recently been devoting much care effectively towards improving its position by various internal measures and consolidating the Little Entente. The recent Bratislava Conference of the Little Entente has well affirmed the line of their alliance, recording at the same time, freedom for each State to develop special contacts of value. It is known that in Geneva in the decision to give recognition to the Abyssinian delegation, the Little Entente, and in particular Czechoslovakia, played a very keen role. This has been meant now not so much as a demonstration against Italy, as to indicate determination to an assertive course of special significance in the light of Germany's aim to side-track the idea of Eastern Pact and the developments in Spain.

During the week, Czechoslovakian and Roumanian diplomatic representatives in Berlin made presentations against certain allegations in association with Russia made about their countries or States at the Nuremberg Congress, affirming at the same time their independence to strike out useful courses. The visit of Dr. Benesh, the Czechoslovakian President, newly to Slovakia, where he had also occasion to receive the Foreign Ministers of Jugoslavia and Roumania, has well contributed to the strengthening of Czechoslovakia's internal stability on progressive basis, which is also well supported by the economic revival and trade expasion of the country. Much importance is attached to the forthcoming visit (next month) of the King of Roumania to Prague.

Germany And Goa

The report alleging a move in the direction of Germany getting hold over Goa, that emanated recently from an American source and found its way also in some Indian papers, has received notice in certain papers in Europe as well, though with reserve. The weight of British position for any such development to carry the chance of materialisation is emphasized. The projections of some important Nazi leaders of a stand by Germany of value to vital Empire interests to Britain in directions, and the role of Japan of safeguarding British interests in the Indian ocean in the last war, now as would seem not upheld, will perhaps also be connected in India with the report about Goa even as a suggestion. India, above all, one would think be attentive as a country interested in advance of the idea of self-determination and not such transfers and shifts as are likely to affirm and underline basically the idea of external domination.

Attention To Shipping

The plea for an active role by India in shipping business by development of its participation in oversea trade, put forward recently with much directness and force by Mr. Walchand Hirachand the Chairman of the Scindia Steamship Company, reminds one of the great care devoted in the post-war era to shipping by various countries outside some with already well-established positions in the line, particularly Germany which had its shipping greatly crippled after the War, Japan, Italy, and more recently, Soviet Union and Poland. The shipping business, over other considerations is seen as an important factor in the regulation of the balance of foreign trade, extension of insurance business, development of tourist traffic, and coordination of export and import trade. These issues have strongly influenced various countries in the close attention to the development of shipping, and they ought to carry weight with a country like India with its long coastal lines, despite complications and difficulties of the task, to close care to move to advance in the direction of sharing the benefits of 'invisible' returns for foreign trade and other advantages connected with shipping business.

sure out of it. And there is pleasure in city driving when we know we're doing a skilful job, keeping the proper margins of time and space.

Country Driving

In discussing brakes we spoke of our cars as transpotation systems . . . . our own private railways, so to speak, with home for our terminal.

As a rule we engineers behind the steering wheel work only on local runs . . . back and forth from the office, shop, and the rest of our regular stops. But every now and then, and especially when the week end rolls around, we're likely to want to change our run. And one fine day there we are, out on the main line at the throttle of our "Overland Limited",—if you please.

Railways put only their best drivers on important runs like that. What the Railway men mean by the best driver is the one who has taken his train out and brought it in, time after time, year after year, without a thing to regret. Now there's one thing about this driver that explains his good record better than anything else. He believes in signs. All along the way there are signals that tell him what to do, and he does exactly what they say.

Same For Motorists

And people who drive thousands of miles every year tell us they have trained themselves to the very same habits as the engine drivers. We can just as easily form one haibt as the other, and it pays to form the habit of automatically acting on the advice of our roadside signs.

So it isn't enough just to have our engine in good shape, and to watch our fuel and oil or even to follow the rule of not driving too many hours at a stretch. Those things are highly important, but it is just as important to watch for our signals and follow them religiously. Then we can look forward to sending back that ever-welcome message—"Arrived safely after pleasant trip."

Many of my listeners must have ideas on Driving. Do please forward them to me, so that I can pass them along to other drivers in my next series of talks.

Goodnight everyone. Drive safely so as to arrive safely.

Motorists, "Dealers Of Death"

"One of the sinister signs of the times is the widespread disregard of the sacredness of human life," writes the Bishop of Ely, Dr. Heywood, in the "Ely Diocesan Gazette."

"And one of these signs is the continued slaughter on the roads, regarding which the national conscience is not yet sufficiently aroused."

"No doubt some pedestrians and pedal cyclists are culpably thoughtless, and careless—but it is the man (or woman) in charge of the motor vehicle who deals out death. It is his duty to make public highways so safe that 'wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein' ".

SECRET OF "QUEEN MARY'S" SUCCESS?

Churchill's Daughter's Romance Sequel

LONDON, (By Air Mail).

The Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, in order that the R. M. S. "Queen Mary" should break all records for the Atlantic crossing, offered to pay for the extra expenditure on fuel which a record-breaking attempt would involve. The reason for this offer was the romance of his 21 year-old red-haired actress daughter, Sarah Churchill. She met an American Actor, Vic Oliver, when he was appearing in London recently. Oliver known as the "fashion plate of the American stage" returned to his native land. Miss Churchill suddenly decided to join him in New York, left a curt note for her mother and sailed on the German boat Bremen. Mrs. Churchill telephoned her husband attending the French Army Manoeuvres, who promptly ordered his son Randolph to fetch his smitten sister back. The "Queen Mary" the only boat available had no vacant berths. Nothing, daunted, the veteran Conservative politician telephoned the Cunard chairman —and Randolph sailed on the "Queen Mary." Then it was that Mr. Churchill asked the Commander to break all speed records if necessary and made the offer to pay the costs. However, it was not necessary and the brother Randolph caught up with his sister who is reported to have promised to "come back."—United Press.

Corporation Denied Financial Relief

Commissioner Sees No Way To Recover Fees And Duty For Swelling Municipal Revenue

In reply to a Corporation resolution suggesting the recovery of certain taxes said to have been appropriated by Government, the Commissioner explains the legal opinion taken on the question and comes to the conclusion that the Corporation cannot recover these taxes.

The Home Department in their letter to the Corporation decline to make any changes in the position.

After two years of discussion nothing has been done to give relief to the Municipal Corporation by the Government of Bombay to swell its depleted treasury.

It will be recalled that on 19th July 1934, the Municipal Corporation passed the following resolution:

'That the Corporation are of opinion that immediate steps be taken to reclaim several sources of Municipal Revenue at present appropriated by Government for Provincial purposes.

That the Law Revenue and General Purposes Committee, in consultation with the Commissioner, be requested to investigate and report in two months whether it would be advisable to take steps to recover the following Municipal Taxes, at present wholly or partly appropriated by Government:—

(1) Motor Vehicle Licence and Registration Fees.
(2) Entertainment Tax.
(3) Stamp Duty recovered as Tax on Transfer of Property.
(4) Riot Compensation Tax out of General Tax.
(5) Tobacco Duties.

Commissioner's Reply

The Municipal Commissioner reporting on the above, says:

"The Resolution in question suggests that the Committee should investigate whether it is advisable to take steps to recover certain alleged Municipal taxes said to be appropriated by Government, and take legal opinion if necessary.

"There is unfortunately a good deal of misconception about this, and with a view to make the position clear it is necessary to enter into some past history. When Government increased the Motor Vehicle Licence and Registration Fees in 1930 with the avowed object of allocating such fees to provincial revenue, the Corporation were much perturbed, and desired by their Resolution No. 10971 of 1st March 1930 that a joint opinion of Counsel, Messrs B. J. Desai and V. F. Taraporewalla, should be obtained.

"Counsel advised that although the increase in the Licence and Registration Fees, with a view to appropriate the margin towards Provincial Revenue, was 'ultra vires' of the Local Government the interest of the Municipality in the matter was only indirect, and therefore the question of taking legal proceedings if any against Government should be left to individuals concerned.

Municipal Claim Denied

"As regards the Entertainment Tax and Stamp Duty recovered as tax on Transfer of Property I would invite a reference to the report of the Finance and Banking Sub-Committee underlying Standing Committee Resolution No. 5693, dated the 29th October 1930. In paragraph 3 of this report it has been pointed out that the Entertainment Tax is not 'a tax on trades, professions and callings' but a 'tax on amusements,' which coming within Schedule I of the Scheduled Taxes Rules, is a source of Provincial Revenue, and that the Municipality cannot claim the revenue from this source as of right under the existing law.

STAMP DUTY.

"As regards the Stamp Duty on transfer of property, in paragraph 4 of the Sub-Committee's report referred to above it has been pointed out that it is debatable whether this duty is (1) a tax on land or land values or (2) a tax on land put to non-agricultural use or (3) a Stamp Duty other than duties of which the amount is fixed by Indian Legislation. If the first, it would fall under Schedule II of the Scheduled Taxes Rules and would form a source of revenue to local bodies; but if the 2nd or 3rd, it would fall under Schedule No. 1 and constitute a legitimate source of provincial revenue.

"The transfer of property tax is no doubt levied by the Calcutta and Madras Municipalities and Government themselves had offered it to the Bombay Municipality in settlement of the dispute regarding their contribution towards the cost of Primary Education, but the offer was rejected by the Corporation. This tax has been brought prominently to the notice of Government in recent communications and Conferences as a source of Municipal Revenue, but Government are not disposed, in the present state of their finances, to consider any proposal affecting or likely to affect Provincial or Imperial Revenues.

Not Taken By Govt.

"So far as the Riots Compensation Tax is concerned it is not understood why it is considered by the mover of the proposition as a Municipal source of revenue. The tax is levied by Government for the purpose of paying compensation to persons who suffer damage during riots, and the proceeds are handed over to such persons and not appropriated by Government for the purpose of Provincial Revenue.

"As for the Tobacco Duty, a representation has already been made to Government giving the whole history of this duty, and pointing out to them that the duty was Municipal rather than Provincial and has been enjoyed by the Municipality since 1866. Although Government are not disposed to admit the Municipal contention in this respect, the revenue from the duty is being handed over to the Municipality, and therefore at least for the present it cannot be considered as a source of revenue appropriated by Government for Provincial purposes."

Govt. Decision

The Under Secretary to the Government, Home Department, in his letter to the Municipal Secretary dated 29th October 1934 replied that Government had re-examined the position in 1931 and decided to make no change in the orders that had been passed.

The Law and Revenue Committee has advised to the Municipal Corporation to pursue the matter still further in consultation with the Municipal Commissioner.

PROTEST AGAINST EXCLUSION

Poona Workers Withdraw From New G. I. P. Staff

The General Secretary of the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union has received the following communication from Messrs. K. N. Phadake, C. Aran and S. G. Satawalekar of Poona:

"We joined the Staff Union though we were fully conscious of fact that policy and programme of the New Staff Union was a continuation of that of the old Staff Union and that it was hostile to the policy of class struggle. We joined the same in the hope that we could thereby bring the pressure of the rank and file of railway workers to realise the unity resolution moved at the mass meeting of the railway workers at Manmad. This would be clear from the fact that in the first public meeting of railway workers held at Poona and which was attended by over 200 workers, we moved the same resolution. But we soon discovered that the New Staff Union had not the least desire to achieve a rank and file unity. As an instance, we might point out that while the New Staff Union agreed to amalgamation with the Administrative Staff Union over the head of its rank and file, it rejected the demand for implementing Manmad resolution on the pretext that there was no demand for such unity on the part of the rank and file of railway workers. We may also state that the "Union Herald" suppressed the news of the mass meeting held at Poona and demand for unity which was insistently voiced at such meetings.

We understand, that the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union was not allowed to participate in the meeting of the General Council of the All-India Railwaymen's Federation held on 20th September, 1936, on the technical ground of non-payment of full affiliation fees.

In view of the situation with which the Railway workers are faced and the issues which were before the Council, it was highly improper to exclude a strong sister organisation of Railway workers from the deliberations of the Council.

We also understand that the representatives of the Staff Union did not protest against such exclusion of the Workers' Union. This, we consider as a deliberate act on the part of the Staff Union to prevent a strong United Front of Railway workers against the action of the Railway Board.

We feel, therefore that no useful purpose would be served by our continuing to work in the Staff Union as its reactionary leadership is determined to suppress the voice of the rank and file of the Railway workers and sabotage the united front action of Railway workers.

We, therefore, declare that we have withdrawn from the New Staff Union and we shall do all in our power to strengthen the organisation of the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union."

TRADE FAIR IN VIENNA

Indian Wares Attract Notice

VIENNA.

The Vienna Autumn Fair appears to be one of the most successful of late years.

In one of the pavillions there is an exhibition of British-India. Chancellor von Schuschingg had personally opened this exhibition in presence of the British Minister in Vienna, Sir Walford Selby.

The British-Indian exhibition shows in a tasteful grouping the most important products of the country, including rice, jute, cotton etc., as well as all kinds of home industry exhibits, including copper and bronze goods, carved hockey sticks, etc.

There are not many English firms exhibiting at Vienna, though the number of visitors from South-Eastern Europe and from the Near East would justify such a participation. The firms which have exhibited are apparently satisfied with the progress of business. There is an interesting special exhibition of a large British gold and silver firm, showing all kinds of metals as well as alloys, including some special alloys which withstand acids and the corroding effects of other liquids.

British broadcasting and some other machinery and tool products are also on show, these products being exhibited mostly through the Vienna agents of the British firms.

Mr. Schleiter travelled from London to Karachi by K. L. M. (Dutch Air Lines) and from Karachi to Bombay Tata's Services, completing the whole journey in just over 4 days.

Two special charter flights were made—one carrying two gentlemen from Ceylon who were flying to Baghdad, and another carrying wireless parts from Bombay to Colombo.

AROUND THE COURTS

BOMBAY, Friday.

A taxi driver who it was stated was driving along DeLisle Road on the wrong side, was alleged to have knocked down an old woman. She is now lying in a precarious condition in the K. E. M. Hospital.

The driver, E. A. Vajifdar, was arrested by the DeLisle Road Police yesterday and bailed out in the sum of Rs. 200 at the Dadar Court to-day till the 23rd.

Ratilal Wallabhji Shah, cashier of Messrs. Nawinchandra & Co., was arrested on a charge of criminal misappropriation in respect of a sum of Rs. 1,635 belonging to the firm.

The accused it was stated had misappropriated the amount between July 21 and Sept. 9 and absconded. He was arrested last evening and bailed out by the Police.

At the Esplanade Police Court to-day the period of bail was extended to Oct. 25.

Fate Of A G. C. Note

How a person duped several unemployed people by promising them work at Quetta, and received money from them, was narrated at the Dadar Court to-day.

It was alleged that Babu Raghu met one of the complainants at Worli Cemetery some three months back and promised him work.

On a similar promise he received Rs. 5 from three of the complainants and asked them to see him four days later.

Later on he put them off and finally, yesterday, he told them to do what they liked. He was arrested and was ordered to be bailed out till the 23rd inst. in the sum of Rs. 100, by the Magistrate to-day.

How a person inveigled another at Chor Galli into parting with a gold ear ornament was related to the Dadar Magistrate to-day.

On the plea that he would tell his victim the correct forecast pertaining to the American cotton futures and, promising, besides, that the ornament would be returned after a short time by a magical means, Allah Rakhoo Chaddan is alleged to have secured possession of the booty.

Allah Rakhoo Chaddan was today ordered to be bailed out in the sum of Rs. 50 till the 22nd inst.

The fate that befell a G.C. Note which was on its way to be safely deposited in the vaults of the Savings Bank at a Post Office, and which was finally recovered from the foot of a tree at Worli was narrated at the Dadar Court today.

It was stated at 11 a.m. yesterday, Walji Bhaiji, a domestic servant, was walking along the Worli Road on his way to the Post Office, where he was to deposit Rs. 10 in the Savings Bank on behalf of his master. He had a ten-rupee G. C. Note in his hand.

It was further stated that Daulat Baloo (accused), approached Walji, snatched away the Note in the twinkling of an eye and ran away.

Sergeant Quiltor, of the DeLisle Road Police, who investigated the case, recovered the G.C. Note at the foot of a tree at Worli.

The accused who was placed before the Dadar Court to-day, was remanded into Police custody till the 23rd inst.

A tea-shop at Khatar Lane was the scene of a raid carried out by the Prevention of Gambling Squad last night.

Chandrakant Mahadoo, Tulsidas Khimji and Amarchand Jodhraj were taken into custody in this connection. Several small note books and satta record it is alleged, were seized.

All the accused were bailed out till 23rd instant at the Girgaum Court to-day.

The Prevention of Gambling Squad raided another place last night, house No. 7 at Alli Umar Street, and one Abdul Sattar Gulamnabi was taken into custody. Several chits and cash including marked coins were, it is alleged, also seized.

The above accused was also ordered to be released on bail in a sum of Rs. 100 (Rs. 50 cash) at the Girgaum Court to-day, till 23rd instant.

With an open knife in his hand, Abdul Gani was stated to have eluded a large crowd and a couple of Constables at Suklaji Street yesterday noon.

It is reported that Abdul Gani went to assault another man Mohommed Shafi.

The open knife in his hand attracted the attention of a large crowd which gathered round mim.

The news that a man was seen with an open knife and was surrounded by a large crowd gained currency and brought on the spot two Nagpada Police Constables.

When one of the Constables was elbowing through the crowd, the other was caught by a man, believed to be the accomplice of Abdul Gani.

Then followed the shouts and confusion. The other Constable tried to save his brother-constable.

By this time both Abdul Guni and his accomplice had vanished.

But the Constable arrested a third person, named Mujid Ashmatulla, from whom the Police hope to gather information about the other two suspects.

Ashmatullah was charged with causing grievous hurt to a public servant and was put up before Mr. I. S. Haji, Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon, to-day.

He was ordered to be released on bail in the sum of Rs. 200, pending further Police inquiries.

Chinese Den Raided

On Thursday night on information received Inspectors Hudson and Rao Saheb Shete, accompanied by a posse of Constables, proceeded to Matunga and raided a Chinese den.

The Chinamen on seeing the raiding party closed and barred the doors. The officers and constables had to effect an entrance by breaking open the doors only to meet with fierce opposition from the Chinamen who were, it is alleged, indulging in the prohibited drugs of Cocaine and opium smoking.

They put up a fight but only to be overpowered and taken into custody.

It was with great difficulty that the bundles of cocaine which the Chinamen tried to devour and thus caused the disappearance of evidence of their crime were recovered after a fierce struggle.

In the search further quantities of cocaine and contraband opium were recovered, concealed on the premises.

Three Chinamen were put under arrest and they were placed before the Presidency Magistrate Third Court, to-day, and remanded for further investigation.

Mr. Justice N. J. Wadia and a special jury at the High Court Sessions commenced the hearing of the case in which four persons are charged with dacoity and murder of one Sardanmull Marwadi who had his shop at Matarpakhadi, Mazagaon.

The accused in the case are Ismail Gaffoor, Wasil Jamalkhan, Yusuf Mahomed and Amarsingh Indrasingh.

One Jagmohan was also involved in the case but he turned an approver at a later stage of the case.

There are nearly 60 witnesses in the case which is expected to have a prolonged hearing.

On the night of March 19 last, a gang of several persons, including, as alleged the accused and Jagmohan forcibly broke open the shop of Sardarmull, and after gagging him and tying him hand and foot, decamped with gold ornaments and other property valued at Rs. 16,000.

Some days later, Jagmohan was arrested while disposing of the stolen property.

The second and third accused were arrested in U. P. and the others in Bombay.

The case is proceeding.

The Bombay Coroner's Jury reprimanded a hand-cartman in connection with the death of a boy of 12.

It attributed the cause of death of the boy, Chhotalal Keshoo, who was knocked down by a B. E. S. T. bus on Supari Baug Road, on Monday last, to the "extreme carelessness" of the man.

Two boys were seated in the wheel cart and Baboo Bali, was dragging the cart along Supari Baug Road, when a B. E. S. T. bus came from behind and dashed against the cart, whereupon both the boys were flung on the road and sustained injuries.

Chhotalal Keshoo died in the K. E. M. Hospital the next day (Tuesday).

The hand-cart man giving evidence before the City Coroner today, stated that the motor bus came from behind without sounding the horn. There was room enough for two or three motor vehicles on his right side.

How Collision Occurred

Witness heard the sound of a bus behind him, and, when it came quite close to him, the bus tried to go to the extreme left and it collided against the right wheel of the cart.

The shafts of the cart slipped from his hand following the impact and it slided across the road towards the right, and dashed into the raised portion of the road reserved for tram track.

When the bus stopped, Chhotalal was found under its wheel.

After hearing evidence of two more witnesses the Jury returned the above verdict, in accordance with the directions given by the Coroner.

CENTRAL BANK CASE

Defence Counsel On Danger Of Inspection Of Books

"The Bank has to show the cause against the order made by you, Sir," said Mr. P. D. Shamdasani, when the case against the Auditors and the Accountants of the Central Bank was called for further hearing before Mr. I. S. Haji, Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon, on Thursday.

In this case, Sir Hugh Golding Cocke and three other partners in the firm of Messrs. Billimoria and Co., and Messrs. Fergusson and Co., Auditors and Accountants of the Central Bank of India, are charged with issuing false balance-sheet with a report appended to it, in which false statements were alleged to have been made wilfully and knowingly.

Arguments were advanced by Mr. S. G. Velinker, counsel for the Bank, in support of his application under the Bankers' Books Evidence Act to give notice of the Bank's intention to show cause against the order made by the Magistrate on an application made by Mr. Shamdasani to give him liberty to inspect the relevant accounts of the Bank, more particularly, the Miscellaneous Adjustment Accounts to prove the case for the Prosecution.

Mr. Velinker pointed out that the Sundry Ledgers of the Bank of the relevant period consisted of three bulky volumes, each book containing 1,100 pages, and comprising hundreds of accounts relating to the transactions and the business of the Bank. Mr. Shamdasani, counsel added, had not specified the accounts required by the applicant in his application before the Court

The Bank had the option, counsel argued, of either offering to produce the Books or giving notice of its intention to show cause against the order of the Magistrate, under the Bankers Books Evidence Act. The Bank had already offered to produce the Books and therefore the only course for the Court now, counsel submitted, was to vacate that order.

Referring to the object of the Bankers Books Evidence Act, counsel pointed out that it was to prevent the inconvenience which was felt by the Bankers in being compelled to produce books before a Court of Law.

Counsel, then, cited several authorities to support his contention. He contended that the procedure adopted by Mr. Shamdasani was not warranted by any English Law on which the Bankers Books Evidence Act was based, nor was such a procedure in accordance with the provisions of any Indian law or the Law of the Land.

The Law of Discovery or the secrecy or the sanctity of accounts of the customers with the Bank did not allow such a procedure, counsel added.

Bank Liable To Customers

Further it was common knowledge, Mr. Velinker pointed out, that, if any officer or the assistant of the Bank gave any particulars of the dealings of the Bank with its customers, then the Bank was liable to a breach of obligations which the Law of the Land enjoined upon the Bank in relation to its customers.

The complainant had not denied that in his application filed on September 2, or the subsequent one, he had not called for any specific entries from the books of the Bank, produced before the Court. Counsel contended that the object of Mr. Shamdasani was to have a roving or what he would call a "fishing" inspection of all the entries from the books of the Bank. And counsel submitted that the complainant should not be given the liberty to hunt up for the entry or a group of entries which he had not specified, from the Books of the Bank which was not a party to the case.

Mr. Velinker had not concluded his arguments, when the court rose for the day and further hearing of the case was postponed to October 13.

Sholapur has made a contribution of Rs. 3,000 towards funds for the Faizpur Congress.

"THE SUICIDE CLUB"

supporting cast including Frank Morgan, Reginald Owen, Louis Hayward, E. E. Clive and others, that's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Suicide Club", which comes to the Excelsior Theatre this week. Filled with the colour, dash and romance of the period, the picture deals with the adventures of a prince who sets out to enjoy life for a month before he marries a princess who was once bitter enemy during childhood days

The princess learns of his trip and gets out to find him, not because she is in love with him, but because she wonders if he is the cowards he was during childhood days.

Montgomery and Frank Morgan as his aide, become involved in the Suicide Club, of which Owen is the President. Montgomery learns that the president is the same man who tried to overthrow his father's kingdom. The president in turn sets out to kill Montgomery. After failing several times he sets a trap for the prince by challenging him to a duel. Montgomery accepts, but when he arrives at the appointed place he finds that the president intends to murder him in cold blood. But Miss Russel, who by this time has revealed her true name to Montgomery, arrangements to have his friends follow him to duel ground. They cover the president's men and the duel goes on.

After a long and fierce battle, Montgomery bests the president and literally duels him into an open grave that the president had ordered to be dug for Montgomery's body.

The picture closes as Montgomery and Miss Russell are formally introduced in court for the "first" time since they were children. The story of the picture is thus described—"a marriage has been arranged between Prince Florizel of Karovia and the Princes Brenda of Irania. The Prince requests a month of freedom, which his father, the King, permits. Together which Colonel Geraldine, he leaves for London in quest of adventure. He meets a young man who reveals the fact that he is going to die in the "Suicide Club".

With a group of men they are taken into a chamber and seated at a long table. Then the president deals a card to each man. The person who receives the ace of spades is to die. The person who receives the ace of clubs must do the killing. A young girl (the Princess, who is not recognised by the Prince,) is seated at the table.

The prince returns the next night and he receives the death card. The girl is given the ace of clubs. They receive their instructions and set out. By this time the Prince realises that the president of the Suicide Club is none other than Doctor Noel a dangerous man who tried to start a revolution in his father's kingdom.

Away from the club, the mysterious lady reveals her identity, and tells the prince that she went to all this trouble to find out if he was really courageous. The next day Florizel and Geraldine are trapped by Dr. Noel. The Prince escapes, while Colonel Geraldine makes a pretence of having a bomb in his hand. He is captured.

The Prince then receives a note saying that Geraldine will be released if the Prince will fight a duel with Dr. Noel. He follows the instructions and arrives at the designated spot only to find that Dr. Noel intends to murder him. But he has made precautions against this. The Prince's men surrounded the place and the duel is on. The Prince beats the president and kills him.

The Prince and Princess go to their respective countries and then she comes to court where she meets the Prince formally before their marriage. A sly wink from each terminates the 'first' meeting.

GIVE HIM A HOIST!

Parents are sometimes perplexed at their children lacking bodily vigour. "Why are other children better at school and games?"

Bodily vigour is dependent on nutrition. Virol is a body building food that provides the needed vitality and gives that persuasive impulse to the growing tissues of the body and the brain that makes the backward child normal and the normal child a winner.

Recent independent tests have proved beyond doubt that the Virol fed child is superior physically and mentally to any other.

Haffkine Institute Makes Unique Experiments

Col. Sokhey's Method For Standardisation Of Plague Vaccines

Government have released to the public an interesting report reviewing the work of the Haffkine Institute for the years 1932-35. This period has been referred to in the report as a period of considerable stress and strain. Early in 1933, the prevailing financial stringency compelled Government to close down one whole department of the Institute (the Department of Pharmacology) and to retrench two senior officers. At about the same time the Central Government withdrew their officer, thus reducing the total strength of the senior staff from six officers to three. This reduction of the staff coincided with a greatly increased demand for Plague Vaccine.

DEMAND FOR PLAGUE VACCINES.

In the financial year (April 1933-March 1934) alone, the Institute issued over 2 million doses as against the average yearly demand of 1 million. In addition, in pursuance of the policy of enlarging the usefulness of the Institute to the Presidency, the Institute in spite of a greatly reduced staff, took up the preparation of other vaccines required by the Public Health authorities. Thus in 1934 and 1935 the Institute prepared and issued over 600 thousand doses of Cholera Vaccine, 17 thousand doses of Typhoid Vaccine and 55 thousand doses of Meningococcal Vaccine. This was not all, the Institute gave assistance to the Director of Public Health and the Inspector General of Prisons by sending out field workers to investigate the outbreaks of Cerebro-Spinal fevers.

MEASURING VIRULENCE.

Col. Sokhey has worked out an exact method for measuring the virulence of plague cultures, and has found that the laboratory mouse is the animal of choice for plague experiments. Further he has evolved an exact biological method for the standardisation of plague vaccines, with every condition of the experiment fully standardised, so that the method can be employed by any worker anywhere and would still yield directly comparable results. This is the first instance of a successful standardisation of a bacterial antigen and marks a great advance in plague work in recent years.

This advance in knowledge has had immediate practical results. It has enabled the protective power of Haffkine Plague Vaccine to be raised thirty-fold and more. Exact determination shows that the Institute Vaccine is anywhere from 8 to 100 times more potent than any other plague vaccine on the market.

HEAT KILLED VACCINES

More important still, Col. Sokhey has found that heat killed vaccines do confer a very high degree of protection on mouse, rat and the guinea-pig, and are superior in this respect to live a virulent culture vaccines. He has developed methods to maintain undiminished for long periods the virulence of plague strains and also to render them avirulent without destroying their antigenic power. He was thus in a position to have at one and the same time the same strain of organism in a fully virulent form and in an avirulent form, thus making it possible for the first time to measure the protective power of the same strain in two forms.

CURATIVE SERUM

The new knowledge of the characters of B. 'Pestis' gained has enabled the Specialist workers to make fresh efforts at producing a curative serum against plague.

"Furious controversy rages round the question of bacteriophage and its value as a prophylactic and therapeutic agent," continues the report. Attempts have been made to solve the problem on the basis of statistical data collected in the field, and clinical tests. Both these methods are notoriously difficult. The laboratory animal experiments necessary for the ultimate solution of the problem have so far not been possible. In the case of cholera, typhoid and dysentery infections, the typical diseases cannot be produced in any laboratory animals, and in the case of other infections no standardised experiments have been devised.

The Institute has been providing training in plague epidemiology and preventive measures to the health personnel of the Presidency as well as of other provinces and Indian States. Over 50 men received training during the period under review.

PROTECTION TO CITY'S HEALTH

In collaboration with the Bombay Municipal authorities it examines between 2,000 and 3,000 rats every morning for signs of plague. This is a very important measure in safeguarding the health of the city of Bombay. Epizootic plague has never been absent from Bombay since the first introduction of the disease in 1896, but the epizootic is now at a very low level, and during the last eighteen months not a single plague infected rat has been found.

Poona, Bijapur, Belgaum, Sawantwadi and Kolhapur were visited by the Special Staff for demonstrating methods of rat and flea destruction with proprietary Calcium Cyanide preparations. During 1933 an officer was deputed to Poona in connection with the Plague epidemic for recommending plague preventive measures. A systematic investigation into the relative susceptibility of rats to plague from different areas in India, which had suffered from epidemic plague in varying degrees some time or other during the present pandemic (1897-1935), has been continued. This enquiry has now covered the whole of India except Bengal. The immunity of rats appears to be roughly proportional to the aggregate incidence of plague in the area from which rats are obtained.

FUTURE OF INSTITUTE

The report discusses at some length the future of the Institute.

The report suggests that true economy lies not in spending less money on the Institute and contracting the spheres of its work—that way, per unit of work done will cost more—but enlarging the functions of the Institute and thereby not only safeguarding the health of the people of this Presidency more adequately but obtaining greater money return.

The report also lays emphasis on the need for a Mobile Unit for field work. A great deal of investigation in the field can be undertaken by the Institute. This is not possible at present because of lack of staff to go into the field to collect material for investigation.

FIVE YEAR PLAN FOR TRIVANDRUM

Rs. 46 Lakhs Drainage Scheme Launched

TRIVANDRUM, (By Mail)

A forty-six lakhs drainage scheme for Trivandrum, the capital of Travancore State, is now being executed. It is a five years' scheme, and the allotment for the current year, 1936/37, which is the first year, is 7.43 lakhs. Rapid progress is being made with the work, and it is hoped to complete during this year a considerable portion of the work in the first block, comprising about two-thirds of the town, and also take in hand work connected with the sewage farm and the sludge digestion plant.

The scheme is designed to meet the anticipated requirements of the prospective population of the town thirty years hence, and has been drawn up in the light of the latest developments in drainage engineering. It will introduce efficient under-ground drainage to carry away the sewage and provide for about 10,000 water closets with flush latrines throughout the town, connected to the drainage system.

Including house connections, the total length of sewers to be laid will be about 200 miles. The sewage will be taken to sludge digestion works, where it will be treated in the light of the findings of modern scientific research, and it is hoped to put the resultant products to very valuable industrial use.

Side by side with this, the storm water disposal scheme will also be carried out. Owing to the good gradient, there is a natural flow in most areas, but where it is necessary, provision will be made for storm water disposal. The total cost of this scheme, amounting to six lakhs, is included in the forty-six lakhs estimate, mentioned earlier.

The whole town is divided into three blocks for the drainage scheme, and the scheme for the first block, costing about 25 lakhs, will be completed in three years. There will be about 70 miles of sewers in this block, of which it is proposed to lay about 30 miles this year. At present the bigger size 21 and 24 inch cast-iron pipes are being laid in this block. Work in connection with the sewage pumping station in this block will also be taken up this year.—A. P.

Weather report for the week ending October 7:—

The unsettled conditions in the Bay of Bengal concentrated into a deep depression in North Bay early in the week. Moving northwestwards the depression intensified into a storm of severe intensity in the northwest angle of the Bay and crossed the Orissa Coast near Chandbali on the 4th. In association with this storm widespread rain fell in Lower Burma on most days of the week, in northeast India during the last four days and in Upper Burma on some days. Thunderstorms caused fairly widespread rain in the West Coast of the Peninsula and Deccan during the first four days of the week. The r activity decreased thereafter over this region.—A.P.

WEAKNESS OF STERLING IN LONDON

Large Export Sales Of Gold

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEWS

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

MONEY.

Rate for call money is unchanged at 1/2 per cent., but funds are a little more in demand. Bankers' Deposits with the Reserve Bank of India show a further decline of Rs. 3.14 crores to Rs. 24.74 crores indicating that money is becoming more usable. Applications for this week's Treasury Bills amounted to Rs. 282.50 lakhs, of which Rs. 2 crores were accepted at an average rate of Rs. 0-12-0 per cent as against Rs. 0-11-6 per cent last week. Maturities on the other hand amounted to Rs. 2 crores, but the market received about Rs. 1.33 crores through the sale of £1 million sterling to Goevrnment. Fixed deposit rate sare unchanged: 3 months at 3/4 per cent and 6 months at 1 per cent.

EXCHANGE.

Sterling exchange was steady during the week with sellers of ready T T. at 1s. 6-7/64d. and buyers at 1s. 6-9/64d. some business being done at the middle rate. Forward market was quite steady, and T. T. at 1s. 6-1/8d. was available right up to the end of 1937. Total tenders to Government were comparatively large amounting to £35 950-000 at 1s. 6-1/2d. of which approximately 3 per cent. were allotted.

FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

The outstaniding feature in the foreign exchange market in London was the weakness of sterling in terms of the dollar. The sterling dollar cross rate opening at dol. 4.93-11/16 gradually declined to dol. 4.88-15/16 but closed at dol. 4.89-5/8. Demand for U.S.A. dollar funds for investment in American scrips was partly responsible for the appreciation of the dollar. The French Bourse was opened on October 2, and free dealings in the French currency were resumed. The Fr. franc after opening at frs. 104.00 advanced to frs. 105.75 early in the week, but gradually declined and closed at frs. 104.81. Heavy bear covering of Fr. francs in the London market was responsible for the decline. There was a sharp fall in the three months forward discount on Fr. francs, which dropped from the previous level of frs. 10 500 to frs. 400. The Italian lira has been fixed at 92 to £ sterling and 19 to the U.S.A. dollar, and the gold content of Lira has been fixed at 4.67 gms. per 100 lira compared with 7.9 gms. It is officially announced that the Austrian gold price will henceforth be based on any market chosen periodically by the Austrian National Bank; and in order to secure its stability, the price of fine gold in the National Bank's weekly statements will be fixed for the whole of 1936 at 5982.69 schillings per kilo. The guilder after weakening from 9.10½ to 9.39 mid-week, improved and closed at 9.19½. The belga fluctuated between 29.33 and 29.05.

GOLD.

The price of gold in the local market moved in sympathy with the U.S.A. dollar, and the quotation for ready gold opening at Rs. 34-14 touched Rs. 35-3-3, but closed at Rs. 35-2-3. A fair amount of fresh business was done for export mostly for deliveries in the second half of November and December. There was a small reselling by banks for near deliveries. The price of gold in London opening at 140s. 5½d. steadily advanced and closed at 142s. 3d. The price of spot sovereigns improved from Rs. 22 to Rs. 22-3 towards the close. Shipment per S. S. "STRATHMORE" last week was valued at Rs. 25.14 lakhs, making a total of Rs. 25.94 crores for the current year, and Rs. 283.48 crores since September 1931. Stocks on hand are estimated at about 2 lakhs of tolas, while the daily arrivals average about 20,000 tolas. The offtake averages about 2,000 toals a day. The highest and lowest rates in the local market were Rs. 35-3-3 and Rs. 34-14 for ready, November 2, and December 1, settlements. The week's total imports amounted to Rs. 77,821 in bar and coin.

SILVER.

Silver opened at Rs. 49-12 for ready and gradually advanced to Rs. 50-3 in cosonance with the appreciation of the U.S.A. dollar and steadier advices from London. Towards the close however, the rate declined to Rs. 49-14-6 on general selling. Stocks on hand are estimated at about 11,000 bars. Demand for spot silver was comparatively small, and the daily offtake averaged about 40 bars as against 55 bars last week. Yesterday's shipment arrival per S. S. "MALOJA" is worth £35,100. Silver to the amount of £126,100 is "en-route" to Bombay. The week's imports were about 475 bars from London and Australia and Rs. 47,887 in coin. The highest and lowest rates in London were 20-1/3d. and 19-15/16d. for spot and 20-5/16d. and 19-15 16d. for two months forward; and those in our market were Rs. 50-3 and Rs. 49-12 for ready, Rs. 50-4 and Rs. 49-13 for November 2. settlement and Rs. 50-5 and 49-14 for December 3 settlement The Shanghai dollar opening at 1/2-11/52 gardually advanced and closed at 1/2-7/16.

IMPERIAL BANK STATEMENT.

The Imperial Bank of India statement as on October 2, 1936, shows a fall of Rs. 2.72 crores to Rs. 14.96 crores in the total cash balance of the bank. The value of total securities were up by Rs. 1.33 crores to Rs. 51.53 crores. Loans and Bills discounted increased by Rs. 7.98 lakhs and Rs. 83.68 lakhs respectively. It is understood that the Imperial Bank of India advance rate is unchanged at 3 per cent.

GILT-EDGED MARKET.

The gilt-edged market continued its upward trend in sympathy with London quotation, and there was good investment inquiry in all scrips. There was a general advance in quotations and sellers were reserved. However, there was a slight falling of hesitancy towords th close on foreign political news. 3½ per cent Rupee Paper ranged between Rs. 99-15 and Rs. 99-11-6, but closed at Rs. 99-13. All the medium term loan improved fractionally: 3 per cent 1941 from Rs. 104-9 to Rs. 104-13. 4 per cent 1943 from Rs. 111-9 to Rs. 111-14 and 5 per cent 7939-44 from Rs. 108-15 to Rs. 109-2 2-3/4 per cent. 1948-52 new loan was steady at Rs. 101-3; 5½ per cent 1938-40 loan at Rs. 107-15 and 5 per cent 1940-43 loan at Rs. 112. 3 per cent 1951-54 loan advanced from Rs. 103-14 to Rs. 104-2; 3½ per cent 1947-50 loan from Rs. 107-7 to Rs. 107-11 and 4 per cent 1960-70 loan from 115-6 to Rs. 155-9. 4½ per cent 1955-60 loan was placed at Rs. 119-14 and 5 per cent 1945-55 (tax free) loan changed hands at Rs. 121-5

SHARES.

The share market has been unperturbed by the devaluation of currencies of arvious European countries during the period under report. The price variations have been negligible, and in fact the opening and the closing quotations in most instances are almost unchanged. The adoption of managed currency by Holland was expected to adversely affect the sugar shares, but all apprehensions in this regard were removed by the Hon. the Finance Member, of Government of India, who in reply to a question in the Legislative Assemoly stated that "Government of India have received information from an official source that the guilder export price of sugar from the Netherlands Indies will be increased by an amount proportionate to the depreciation of the guilder. The rupee price of the imports from Java will, therefore, be unaffected by the departure of Holland from the gold standard." The Belapur Company's shares were accordingly unchanged at about Rs. 196, and with the assurance given by the Hon. the Finance Member, are generally considered a good investment scrip. The steel shares were almost unchanged. Tata Ordys. at Rs. 186 and Defds. at Rs. 723-2. Tata 2nd Pref. improved further from Rs. 170-4 to Rs. 172-8. Scindias were also in better demand, and the price advanced to Rs. 18/4 xr, but closed at 17/15xr. Cotton mill shares were neglected though prices were a shade bettter all-round in sympathy with the general trend of the market. Among Hydro-electric shares, Andhra Valleys were firm, there being a gain of nearly 30 points over last closing. At the close, however, the quotation receded on profit-taking to Rs. 1635. Tata Powers were almost unchanged at Rs. 1540, while Tata Hydros declined from Rs. 125 to Rs. 183-2 on tired liquidation. Cement shares were steadier but price improvement was small.

DECLINING TENDENCY IN CALCUTTA SHARES

Messrs. Bhagwanlal Nanavati and Co., have issued the following report dated Calcutta Oct. 2:—

Jute:—This section presented a declining tendency especially the speculative counter Howrah which during the course of Wednesday developed a sagging tendency and were marked back by two Rupees 51/13 being the lowest touched and 54/2 being the top price of the day. Later on due to covering operations Howrah steadied up by 0/8 annas 52/6 being the price ruling on Friday. The closing was however steadier at 52/12. The outstanding event of the week was the devaluation of the French Currency. It was apprehended, this news ought to have an adverse effect on the prices of Jute and Jute goods since the commodities would be dearer to French buyers but the market has taken a longer view that the expected improvement in the internal economic position of France would more than counter balance the higher prices of imported goods and the eventual result would be beneficial to the Jute trade. The prices of Jute fabrics were therefore a shade steadier. Kamarhatty during mid-week receded to 490 from 510 and were quoting 495. Kinnison were done round 566. Kankinarrah were good at 400. Messrs. E. J. Schwabach and Company have received the following cable.

Earlier: The Bureau report is considered bearish.

Receded from top as a result of weak technical position because of heavy covering by shorts. However steady buying by trade on any reaction. Ginnings are heavy strongly indicating crop movement will soon become lighter. We believe that the situation is one that suggests higher prices.

Messrs. Patel Brothers have received the following cables from their Agents —Reuter.

While somewhat above expectations, does not alter our opinion as to ultimately higher prices.

Cables received from other Liverpool Friends:—

U. S. Bureau Report: Crop bales 11,609,000 bales; bearish, but recommend buying on declines.

BOMBAY COTTON

Bombay, Oct. 9.

Following quiet New York advices the local cotton market opened to-day at Rs. 218 for Broach A/M. delivery and declined to Rs. 217/12. At this level there was improved demand and prices advanced to Rs. 218/8 but again reacted to Rs. 218/4. Local prices are attractive and we strongly advise purchases and accumulation of cotton at present prices.

Liverpool market was due to open at a decline of 6 points but it opened 4 points lower which influenced some buying in the local market and Broach A/M was quoted at Rs. 219. The market closed at 5-30 p.m. as under:

Broach A-M	.....	218	4 0
Oomra D-J	.....	194	12 0

Comment On Bureau

Bombay, Oct. 9.

"The improvement during September in other sections was overshadowed by a decline in Texas, where the drought was relieved too late, though in other sections, rains have been very helpful. At present, a larger than usual amount of open cotton in the Eastern belt is exposed to possible loss by storms and is still subject to frost damage in Georgia to the North." +Reuter

ART SCHOOL STUDENTS STAGE

Varied And Colourful Programme

(By Our Dramatic Critic.)

Students of the Sir J. J. School of Art staged on Thursday evening at the Opera House a varied and colourful programme of entertainment.

The playlets—Hindi, Marathi and Urdu—, the dances and the tableaux were, obviously its main features. The three playlets in three different languages were indicative of the all-India community of artists which constitutes the school. And, it indicate as well the difficulties of the undertaking as the one at the Opera. These difficulties were well faced and the students and the staff the school guided by Mr. Charles Gerard, the Deputy Director of the School, brought the amateur show to more than appreciable efficiency. The 'Justice of Jehangir', the Hindi drama was as brief as it should have been and was given the necessary high relief by the acting of Kumari Nirmalla Maliwalla. The Marathi drama "Renunciation", was rather long-drawn but cleverly dialogued and acted. Mention may be made of Sjt. Galande's 'Subramanya' and Kumari Lakur's 'Kishori'. The Urdu drama 'The Ideals of Aurangzeb', though not effectively portioned as 'acts' was certainly made the most appealing by the characterising skill of Mr. S. H. Ustad as 'Aurangzeb'. His role was perfectly played.

The tableaux were presented with obvious success. Particularly noteworthy were the 'Parvati', 'Natraj' the 'Kartikeya', and the 'Temptation of Buddha' which was an appropriate denouement. The 'Dream of Shah-Jehan' and the Nagraja' were spectacular and appealed instantly to the audience.

Of the dances, the 'Kairi' dance had good group movements but as the end tended to be overstretched. Similarly, the 'Peasant Dance' obviously flavoured by the Uday Shankar idea though interesting lacked integration. Sjt. Desai's 'Spring' like Sjt. Bajpayee's 'Kite Dance' was commonplace. And, it was rendered noticeably cheap by its lack of the rhythmic feeling and gestures manifest in Sjt. Bajpayee's 'Kite Dance',

It was decidedly, Sjt. N. Vasi's 'Shiva-Parvati' dance which made its distinct contribution to the evening's programme. An unmistakable scheme, thoughtful orchestration and dramatic feeling characterised the dance. Sjt. Vasi, with more ceremony of movements, can make of this number a feature of universal appeal. His partner has, like him, has improved rapidly. And, Krishna Kumari, with the requisite training and artistic, guidance is on her way to register fame as an artiste. We must watch her.

The orchestra of the school is not one of its least important asset. It must be maintained.

During the interval Mr. C. Gerard, the Deputy Director of the school spoke about the object of the Gladstone Solomon Scholarship Fund and mentioned the projects, the students and the staff of the school had planned to add to the fund. Sjt. Kanaiyalal Vakil appreciating the services to art in Western India by Capt. Gladstone concluded by requesting the school authorities not to neglect the talents they had been manifesting that evening but to preserve it by starting an amateur dramatic society of the school. He hoped that they would thus some day by their own efforts usher in the new theatre for India and make amends for the dramatic facilities which the City was notoriously lacking.

INDIAN FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Week End Fixtures

On the Indian Football League ground at Parel only two matches will be played during the week-end. To-day (Saturday), the "Times of India" will play the Bombay Portuguese Association in the Hindustan Cup Tournament. This match has been declared a charity game to aid the Mayor's Famine Relief Fund. It promises to be a very interesting fight as both sides are trying hard to put up their best. It is hoped that the sportsmen of the City will push up in their thousands to support the cause of humanity.

Several young ladies have volunteered to sell the special programme of the day. It is expected that some of them will fetch fabulous prices. Anyway they will help to swell the Relief Fund as much as possible.

On Sunday, the final match in the Safiranjan Shield Tournament will be played off. The finalists are the B.E.S.T. Sports Club and the G.I.P. Railway Mechanics Institute. Although the adds are somewhat in favour of the Tramway men, the G.I.P. are not likely to surrender their title easily. A keen struggle may therefore be expected on the issue.

Mr. Jamnadas M. Mehta, Mayor of Bombay, has kindly consented to preside on the occasion and distribute the prizes.

TO-DAY'S CHARITY MATCH

A GREAT LOVER OF HUMANITY

Non-Violence & Fearlessness, Warp & Woof Of Gandhian Philosophy

Mahatma Gandhi intended to visit Afghanistan, Iran and the neighbouring countries, shortly after 1921 campaign, on a humanitarian mission to serve the oppressed people of those countries, carrying his message of Non-Violence and Civil Resistance, for their liberation, was the sensational statement made by Mr. Jamnadas M. Mehta, Mayor, speaking at a public meeting held at the Jinnah Hall, on Friday, in celebration of the Gandhi Jayanti.

Mr. Jamnadas relied for his statement on information of an intimate friend of Mahatmaji who felt as early as 1922 that the Civil Disobedience campaign was a success in India which was on the threshold of Swaraj.

Unfortunately, that expectation did not materialise and Mahatmaji now felt that he had enough work to do in India and stayed here.

Speaking on the subject, "Humanity as the essence of Gandhian Philosophy" at the meeting held under the auspices of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee, Mr. Jamnadas said that Gandhiji in his thoughts and his actions, treated every one as a human being first and last, without any distinction of caste, creed or race.

Mr. S. K. Patil, Secretary, B.P.C.C. requesting Mr. Jamnadas M. Mehta, to address the meeting said that this lecture was the last of a series of four lectures arranged in celebration of the Gandhi Jayanti.

AS LOVER OF HUMANITY

Mr. Jamnadas M. Mehta said that Gandhiji considered all humanity as one, without any distinction of caste, creed or race. He was not merely a nationalist in his attitude. He was a nationalist because he felt that the 350 million people of India were as much entitled to liberty, political, social and economic freedom as people of any other country. He was a nationalist, not because he believed that Indians as a nation were entitled to dominate over another nation, but because he found that the Indians were crushed by foreign domination, social ostracism and bad economic vicissitudes. He found the 350 million people degraded, politically, economically and socially and he thought that he as a sincere lover of humanity had enough work to do in this country towards the uplift of the people. If conditions permitted him, he would have striven equally hard for the uplift and liberation of people in any other oppressed country.

Continuing the speaker observed that Gandhian philosophy was Socratic in its conception and was based on the same principles of Greek philosophy, with its stress on the "fallacy of the undistributed middle".

Mahatma Gandhi, possibly, could not hate anybody. He pitied, sympathised and even forgave the wicked and the sinning. His resistance to evil did not take the form of a bludgeon, a sword or a bullet. He could not conceive of such an idea and under any circumstances he would not agree to it. For many, non-violence was a matter of expediency. With Mahatma Gandhi Civil Resistance meant no hatred, no reprisal and no irritation. His resistance took the form of suffering, willingly undergone and accepted. Resistance was not merely non-violent, but it was to be carried on with utmost courtesy. Even when one found it necessary to resist the wrong-doer, according to Gandhiji's principle, such resistance consisted in pointing out to that person in a most courteous manner, the wrong he had done.

FOR HARIJAN CAUSE

Gandhiji's humanity manifested itself in his service to the cause of the Harijans.

It could not be denied, Mr. Jamnadas continued, that absolute, unimpeachable truth was the basis of Gandhiji's attitude that all people should be politically, socially and economically equal.

Referring to the principles of conduct laid down for the inmates of the Sabarmati Ashram, Mr. Jamnadas said that non-violence and fearlessness were not antithetic. They represented the two wings of the same fact. Truth was the first consideration and it must express itself in humanity. Non-violence and fearlessness could be described as the warp and the woof of the fabric of Gandhian philosophy.

Whatever might be the difference in the views, it must be accepted, concluded the speaker, that all his thoughts and actions, his entry into political, social and economic field, were based on the essential consideration of humanity, and love for every human being without any distinction.

Mr. Nagindas T. Master, Vice-President of the B.P.C.C., proposed a vote of thanks and said that Mr. Jamnadas with whatever views he had held, gave a clear perspective of the Gandhian teachings, his love of mankind.

Unite And Win National Independence

Jawaharlal's Advice To Socialists

MADRAS, Oct. 9.

After spending four crowded days in the city, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru left for Conjeevaram this morning for a ten days' tour of Tamil Nad, accompanied by Mr. Satyamurti, the President of the Tamil Nad Congress.

He returns to Madras on the morning of October 18th after visiting Guntur and Ellore. He then proceeds to Allahabad.

Addressing the Socialists last night at the Gokhale Hall which was his last public engagement in the City, Pandit Jawaharlal said that the immediate issue before the country was national independence and he declared that Socialists could co-operate with anti-Socialists so far as the fight for national independence was concerned.

Pandit Jawaharlal also addressed last evening a mammoth gathering of labourers at Robinson Park when more addresses were presented to him on behalf of certain Labour unions.—A. P.

NO COMMUNALISM AMONG WORKERS

President Appeals For Unity In Labour Movement

MADRAS, October 8.

Organization was the secret of strength and power. Workers should organise themselves not only in particular Unions, but they should unify all trade unions in the country into a joint labour movement. Workers should resist the "assaults of the employers and Government on their wages and standards of life", but side by side with it they should support the Congress in its fight for freedom. Workers and peasants "must not bring in the wretched, futile and shameful communal question in your movement."

This was the gist of a powerful speech made by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Congress President, addressing a vast gathering of more than 15,000 men and women last evening.

PLEA FOR UNITY.

Said the Pandit:

"The lesson that you should have learnt, that you must learn and which you can forget only at your peril, is that you must have a unified and strong All-India Union and those who work against that unity, whatever their intentions, are doing a great disservice for the cause of Indian workers. It is upto your rank and file to press for this unity in the Labour movement, to shout for it and press your leaders for it and make it clear to them and insist on having it."

The Pandit continued:—

"We have also to face larger problems. Swaraj is the most urgent need. It is not for those gentlemen at the top who may or may not be able to do without Swaraj, but it is for the poor people, the workers, the peasants and others, who cannot do without it."

NO COMMUNALISM.

The Pandit concluded:

"Another point is that, you workers, whether Hindus or Muslims, must not bring in the wretched, futile and shameful communal question in your movement. It has done enough mischief elsewhere but in the workers' movement it has absolutely no place. I hope you will function together and fight for the cause of labour, the cause of the country and ultimately for the cause of the masses."—United Press.

"SAVIOUR OF MANKIND"

Chinese Scholar's Tribute To Gandhiji

SHANTINIKETAN (By Mail).

"Mahatmaji is not only the greatest leader of the Indian National Movement but also the greatest saint and philosopher of the present world. He is a real man. He is a real friend and saviour of mankind. His boundless love, his profound sincerity, his perfect peace, his excellent benevolence and mercy are impossible for me to describe in suitable words."

Such were the tributes paid by Prof. Tan Yun Shan, the eminent Chinese scholar and Director of Sino-Indian Cultural Society, to Mahatma Gandhi presiding over a meeting held at Shantiniketan to celebrate Gandhiji's 68th birth anniversary.

Concluding Prof. Tan Yun Shan, said:—

"In China, most of the people, especially the young students, regard Gurudev Tagore and Mahatma Gandhi as the modern Buddhas of India. We sincerely hope there will be a time for China to have the Mahatma's golden teaching for her—honest and sincere people as she had from Gurudev in 1924. If possible we hope that Gurudev will go once again to China together with Mahatma Gandhi, the idol of peace and non-violence."—United Press.

Schools Committee Demands Increased Grant

Entitled To 50 P. C. Of Costs From Govt. To Make Primary Education Free & Compulsory

The Secretary to the Bombay Municipal Schools Committee has been asked to give his suggestions on the question of negotiating a fresh arrangement with the Government through the Corporation for an increased Primary Education grant at the Schools Committee meeting held on Friday.

Mr. M. V. Donde, criticised the present grant, and moved that the Secretary be asked to submit a definite proposal for a fresh adjustment, as the present arrangement is found to be incompatible with the increasing liabilities of the Corporation regarding Primary Education'. They were accorded, Mr. Donde said, a step-motherly treatment by the Government. While other local bodies got fifty per cent., the Schools Committee did not get even 21 per cent. If negotiations were started now, they would be in a position to place all the facts before the new Legislature.

Mr. I. S. Patel, who seconded the motion, said that the Committee should be enabled to extend the scope of free and compulsory education.

After some discussion, the motion was put to vote and carried.

RS. 7,17,000 GRANT

In a note, Mr. Donde stated that at present the Municipality received from Government, approximately, after the application of a cut of 14 per cent. a net grant of Rs. 7,17,000 though the total expenditure on primary education had reached about Rs. 33 lakhs.

Government, Mr. Donde states, had at the time of levying the entertainment tax announced their intention of utilising the proceeds to the spread of education. And much money was derived from this source from the City, what amount had been made available from this source.

Then there was the question of the educational cess. The Committee and the Corporation had thoroughly discussed this but had not thought it advisable to accept the suggestion of levying a cess.

The Municipality were anxious to make education free and compulsory. Though many schemes had been submitted to Government, sanction was not accorded them on the plea of financial stringency. There was a complete deadlock, as Government would not accord sanction to a scheme to make education free and compulsory throughout the City even if it be on their own responsibility.

ENTITLED TO HALF COST

The Government had laid down their financial responsibility so far as other Municipalities and Local Bodies were concerned, but the Bombay Municipality did not came under the Act. The Bombay Municipality would be entitled to half the cost of education irrespective of other limitations, if it was entitled to the benefit that other Local Bodies denied under the Act.

He, therefore, wanted the question to be re-started and that the Corporation be requested to move the Government and the Legislature to lay down the respective liability of the Corporation and the Government on free and compulsory education in the City.

BUDGET ESTIMATES

The Committee then considered the budget estimates.

The Secretary of the Schools Committee in his budget estimates for the year 1936-37 showed the Municipal grant at Rs. 34,75,833 and other receipts Rs. 28,610, totalling Rs. 35,04,443.

For the year 1937-38, estimates have been made for an increase in the strength of pupils by 4,000. The present strength is 78,000. The strength in 1935-36 was 73,460.

The estimates for 1937-38 are prepared for 32,000 pupils and include a total expenditure of Rs. 35,04,000 and expenditure on Municipal Schools Rs. 33,14,000.

Discussion had not concluded when the Committee adjourned.
